Let Us Pray

O God, who art the Strength of thy saints, and who redeemest the souls of thy servants; We bless thy Name for all those who have died in the Lord, and now rest from their labours. Especially we call to remembrance thy loving-kindneess and thy tender mercies to these thy servants. For all thy goodness that withheld not their portion in the joys of this earthly life, and for thy guiding hand along the way of their pilgrimage, we give thee thanks and praise. Especially we bless thee for thy grace that kindles in their hearts the love of thy dear Name; that enabled them to fight the good fight, to endure unto the end, and to obtain the victory; yea, to become more than conqueror, through him that loveth us. And we beseech thee to grant, O Lord, that we, who rejoice in the triumph of thy saints, may profit by their example, that, becoming followers of their faith and patience, we also may enter with them into an inheritance incorruptible and undefiled, which fadeth not away; through the same Jesus Christ our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with thee, one God, world without end. Amen.

Rest eternal grant unto them O Lord; and let light perpetual shine upon them.

I want to thank all those who helped to entertain the General Convention last fall. Under the able leadership of Dr. Thomas S. Gates, the diocese did a splendid job. From all over the Church I have received congratulations on the way in which the Convention was handled. So many have told me that they had enjoyed the Convention better than any they have ever attended.

The subject of evangelism is not a new one, but it is one on which we need clearer thinking and definite action. The Presbyterian Church, U. S. A., in calling their members to more intensive evangelism makes the following statement: "An obscured sense of God and a feverish materialism are the sins to which modern man is prey. We stand amid a generation lost in sin and we of the Church have in our hands, if not always in our hearts, the saving from those sins. We see the disasters in the lives of our acquaintances, broken homes and broken spirits, knowing that the Church has the answer." Strong evangelism depends on strong beliefs. Do we believe that the Church has the answer or are we content with a more general statement that the world needs more Christianity? A number of our communicants do not do anything to bring people to Baptism or Confirmation because they do not believe that it is necessary to serve Our Lord in the fellowship of the Church. Episcopalians—high and low, broad and narrow—will give their money to build churches and set up the outward conditions for worship. They will contribute to the salary of a professional in the hope that he will do what they have neither the desire nor time to do. One layman said to me, "We expect our rector to bring in new customers." We are not in the least interested in being able, in the popular American sense, to build up "a bigger and better diocese." Something far more fundamental is involved than wanting the Episcopal Church to become larger. What is involved is our conception of what constitutes being a Christian. Can we have vital Christianity without a dynamic and vital Church? If the Christian fellowship is an extra, then obviously the thing to do is to leave the confirmation class to the rector. But if you believe that a vital and creative Christian fellowship is a necessity, then every Churchman should be enthusiastically involved throughout the year in securing confirmation candidates.

Early in 1945, I asked each congregation to accept, as the confirmation quota for their parish, a number equal to 9% of the communicant strength of the parish. Of this 9%, 4% would be for replacement of losses (by death, transfer and lapse) and 5% would be for growth. The vital statistics for 1945 show that we received 3.7% for replacement of losses and zero for growth.

At the end of 1939 the diocese reported 80,231 communicants. At the end of 1945 the diocese reported 74,188 or a decrease of 6,143. In 1946 the total number of confirmations was 2,788. If we are going to reach the 9% goal, we should have at least 6,500 confirmations a year.

I am sure that the entire diocese approves the action of the Executive Council in making for 1947 a special grant of $200 to all the missionaries in the diocese and requesting the Missions to give $100. The same policy was followed by the Commission on Rectors' Salaries and Pensions in regard to Aided Parishes. This was done without increasing the basis of the minimum salary, but it is hoped that we will be able to continue this policy next year. I am also happy to note that many of the self-supporting parishes have voluntarily increased the salaries of their rectors. In view of the high cost of living, the salaries are still low.

The record of the parishes and missions for 1946 in regard to the Proportionate Share for missions is a very inspiring one. The parishes and missions accepted a Proportionate Share of $309,545 and paid on these expected Proportionate Shares $330,573.10. The increase of payment over the acceptance enabled us to pay in full our Quota to the National Church and to end the year without a deficit. I cannot say too much for the hard work of the clergy and the vestries which is represented by this magnificent record.

We need to consider carefully the relationship between the Church and social work. There is a real difference of opinion in our Church about this. Some think that the Church, having pioneered the social service field, ought more and more to work with the community, state and federal agencies. Others think that the Church should devote her energies and resources to agencies entirely under her control. This problem has become acute for us in this diocese in thinking of the Episcopal Hospital. The Church has always thought of the care of the sick as a social responsibility. She has not merely preached about caring for the sick and had her people pray for the sick, but has established and maintained hospitals at home and abroad. When the community at large has accepted the care of the sick as its function, should the Church continue its Church hospitals? Those who think that it should point out that in a Church controlled hospital the patients can receive spiritual as well as medical care. For example, in a secular hospital it would be difficult, if not impossible, to hold such a service as Chaplain Morris holds at the Episcopal Hospital every Sunday morning or to render the day by day and hour by hour service that he does there. In some secular hospitals our clergy sometimes find it difficult to take the sacraments to our people. Personally, I have never had much difficulty in doing it, but I have heard of such cases. If we are to continue the Episcopal Hospital as a Church controlled institution the work should be of such a high quality as to serve as an example. We should carefully examine the report of the trustees and consider what it would cost each year to do it. In 1946 you contributed through the diocese $33,603.66 for the support of the Episcopal Hospital. The estimated deficit for 1947 is about $140,000. It would seem, therefore, that the diocese should raise about $175,000 a year for the hospital to balance its budget. In addition some five or six million dollars will have to be raised to cover deferred maintenance and the cost of modernizing the hospital. Presuming that this could be done, would the Episcopal Hospital, as such, be able to attract the most competent medical staff? Only as we face these facts and chart our course accordingly will we be able to render the best service to the community. You must determine what financial obligations the diocese is able and willing to assume. I am convinced that we should assume responsibility only for those institutions which we are financially able to maintain in the very best manner.

The Department of Missions has requested me, in my Annual Address, to make special reference to the serious situation arising from a constantly shifting population. I have done this in previous addresses but it is, of course, a problem that is ever with us. The members of the Board of Strategy have given generously of their time and thought to the solution of problems submitted to them. I want to commend the vestries who have shown a willingness to think in terms of the greatest good to the greatest number. The Board of Strategy can only advise. The decision must rest with the congregation. A harmonious co-operation will help us to avoid mistakes. We have been warned again and again that in a world such as we live in, it is too late to make mistakes. Certainly a vestry should hesitate to spend capital funds without, at least, consulting the diocese. In some instances these funds are undesignated funds and the vestry, therefore, has the legal right to dissipate them. But often these funds represent the gifts of several generations and should not be spent by the present generation without good cause.

Every parish should carefully evaluate its work and either plan for vigorous continuance of the work at the present location or move to another part of the diocese where a constructive work can be done. This evaluation is most valuable when it represents the efforts of the entire congregation, under the leadership of the vestry, rather than sole effort of the rector. Recently, I was told that a certain couple were leaving the Episcopal Church because throughout the war—the husband was wounded overseas—not a single word came to either of them from their parish. I realize that this was at best an oversight on the part of the rector. Quite obviously the wife did not tell the rector of her husband's critical condition. Nevertheless, a vital parish would not allow itself to be in the position that, if the rector didn't keep in touch with the men and women in the service, they would have been utterly neglected by the parish. By the same token no vestry should allow the future of their parish to depend on any one man. I have observed that the parishes which are doing the most effective work are those where the rector and the vestry are alert to serve the community and to try to affect profoundly every life received into their parish fellowship.

The reading of the April issue of the Diocesan paper of the Diocese of Massachusetts made me very envious. In that issue was the schedule of Youth Conferences which were to be held at their delightful Diocesan Conference Center at Briarwood, which was given to the Diocese several years ago. Their full-time Director of Young People's Work rightly says, "Briarwood is a magic word to hundreds of young people throughout the Diocese." Also in this issue is a list of Conferences throughout June, July, and August to be held at the Adult Conference Center at Lock Haven on Lake Winnepasaukee. This delightful Conference Center, with its main building and a number of smaller buildings, was presented to the Diocese of Massachusetts several years ago. Perhaps we cannot hope to have Conference Centers as well situated as these are, but it would be a great help to the Diocese of Pennsylvania if we had one Conference Center that we could use for both young people and adults throughout the year.

The Cathedral Chapter is happy to announce that our property there, about forty acres, is free of debt. Under the direction of Canon Niblo and Mr. J. H. Rankin, there has been an extensive planting of trees according to a plan looking forward to a development of the Cathedral project. The sale of the parish house of Holy Trinity Church will make it necessary for us to make other arrangements for our Diocesan Conventions. It might be well for this Convention to appoint a committee of laymen to consider with the Cathedral Chapter, and report to the 1948 Convention, the desirability of erecting a Synod House on the Cathedral property. There are so many things to consider about this question that a year might be too short time but such a committee could, at least, examine some of the basic questions. Is it desirable to have a Synod House at the Roxborough location? If so, what would it cost to build it and what would be the annual cost of maintenance and repair? Could such a sum be raised in the diocese and should such a project be given the priority over other needs?

I venture to suggest that it would be of great assistance to the diocese if we could build two or three small houses for the clergy who could be on the Cathedral staff. As you know the clergy pensions are not adequate on the 1947 price level. It would help very much if we had such a home to offer a retired clergyman. He could take services at the Cathedral and elsewhere throughout the diocese at the bishop's request. I would not limit such houses to the retired clergy. From time to time there are clergy who have not reached the retirement age of 68 but who would like, for physical or other reasons, to have less strenuous work than that of rector of a parish. Such men could continue to render valuable service. I wish that some of our laity who could afford to do so would seriously consider building such a cottage as a memorial.

I feel that we should first develop the Cathedral property along the lines of immediate usefulness to the diocese rather than think of raising the thousands of dollars which will be needed to complete the Cathedral structure.

The diocese now has the distinction of having a number of "firsts" in length of service in the ministry. Bishop Remington has the number one position in the House of Bishops of the bishops still in active service. He is not the oldest bishop but he has been a bishop the longest of any of the active bishops. In the diocese we have the following who have rendered long and distinguished service:

Archdeacon Phillips	age 100—in ministry 72 years
William J. Wilkie	age 90—in ministry 66 years
Archibald Campbell Knowles	age 82—in ministry 49 years
(oldest Priest in Diocese of Pennsylvania in active service)
William J. Hawthorne	age 80—in ministry 58 years
George W. Barnes	age 80—in ministry 45 years
Joseph Manuel	age 82—in ministry 53 years
Arnold Harris Hord	age 79—in ministry 56 years
John Howell	age 78—in ministry 52 years
Norman V. Levis	age 75—in ministry 50 years
H. Cresson McHenry	age 73—in ministry 49 years
Wm. Chauncey Emhardt, Ph.D.	age 73—in ministry 50 years

I have reluctantly accepted the resignation of Dr. Henry D. Jump as medical examiner of the applicants to become Postulants for Holy Orders. Dr. Jump has rendered faithful service to the diocese for many years, but on account of ill health asked to be relieved.

I may not be as sensitive as I should but as I go about the diocese for confirmation I do not always get the impression that the members of the congregations have eagerly come together in order to present unto God the fruit of their labors. At times I do get this impression. At one such service, I was impressed by the sense of joy on the part of the congregation. The rector said to me, "This is not by any means the largest class that I have presented for confirmation, but I consider that it is the best. The members of the congregation brought the candidates to me for instruction. I did not secure any of them myself." I repeat that many of our vestrymen and other laymen are not active in securing confirmation candidates because they do not believe that the Church is necessary. They are content with the feeling that what the world needs is more Christianity—whatever that means.

Gifts and Bequests to the Diocese

The late Bishop Taitt, in his will, after providing for certain legacies, directed that the residue of his estate be held in trust during the lifetime of his sister, and after her death to be turned over to The Church Foundation to be by it added to The Bishop Taitt Fund for Diocesan Missions. This fund originated in 1935 when Bishop Taitt loaned to the Executive Council $5000 to save for the Diocese a certain church property that was being sold under a mortgage, with the provision that the Executive Council should pay it back, not to him, but into a fund to be known as "The Bishop Taitt Fund for Diocesan Missions." This was done. In addition, by request of Bishop Taitt, contributions made by individuals and churches at the time of his Jubilee were added to the same fund, bringing it to more than $11,000. During 1946 the remainder of his estate following the death of his sister, was received by The Church Foundation, and some $68,000 added to the fund, bringing it to an amount just short of $80,000. The income is disposable for Diocesan Missionary purposes at the direction of the Bishop and the Executive Council. This Fund is not called the Bishop Taitt Memorial Fund, having been established during his lifetime, but "The Bishop Taitt Fund for Diocesan Missions."

The diocese also received a legacy from Vaughan Merrick, the income to be used for missionary work in the diocese. This legacy will be turned over to the diocese sometime in the course of this year and will amount to over $100,000.00.

The Philadelphia Divinity School received a legacy from the estate of Mr. Samuel P. Rotan in the amount of $45,000.00. This gift enabled the school to reduce the mortgage on the school to $37,500. I hope that the remainder of this mortgage can be paid in the near future so that this item can be removed from the budget.

The Endowment for the Episcopate has been increased to $168,312. The progress is very slow toward our goal of $1,500,000, but Mr. Clarence M. Brown and his Committee intend to pursue the matter until definite progress has been made.

Marriage is a Holy Estate instituted of God and is in intention lifelong. Thus the Church defines Christian marriage in Canon 18. It is, therefore, imperative for those of us who are in charge of congregations to lead the people in the work and worship of the Church of which the family and its members have need for the fulfillment of the Christian life. We must not only instruct the people in the Christian doctrine and discipline of marriage but we must urge them to utilize the divinely appointed aids to Christian family life. When families participate as a unit in worship and work, the danger of divorce is reduced to a minimum. The family pew would go a long way towards arresting the disintegration of the family.

A marriage is not made a Christian marriage if the marriage service in the Book of Common Prayer is used. In one of my parishes a communicant said to me—after I had known him for over two years—"I was divorced from my first wife but I was married to my second wife by the Episcopal service, so I knew that it was all right." To think that the use of a certain form of words will make a marriage Christian is to rely on magic. What can the words mean apart from the Christian pre-suppositions? A self-centered man and a self-centered woman will continue to seek selfish ends even in marriage. When Jesus becomes the Lord of their common life, as well as of their separate lives, then the man and woman become the mutually indispensable partners in a sacrament which fulfills Christ's words—"I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly." I repeat that the most important thing is not how the Bishops administer the new marriage Canons but how sincerely and devotedly all of us, clergy and laity alike, use the Word and Sacraments which are the nurture and strength, not only of marriage, but of all Christian living.

There are several provisions of the marriage laws of our Church which need clarification. I am confident that, led by the Spirit of God, the bishops will arrive at a satisfactory interpretation of the canons and agree on the proper procedure under them. Meanwhile it is clear to me that the only cases which should be submitted to the Bishop for his judgment are those of active Church members who desire to continue as such. Canon 18 states that a member of this Church, whose marriage has been annulled or dissolved by a civil court, may apply to the Bishop for permission to be married by a Minister of this Church, provided one year shall have elapsed since the entry of the judgment of the civil court. The Canon goes on to state that such application should be made at least thirty days before the contemplated marriage. Experience has already shown that often thirty days is not long enough for the Bishop to investigate and render his judgment. I, therefore, suggest that no date for such a marriage be set until the Bishop has rendered his judgment.

Hitler promised the German people that they would destroy Christian civilization whether they won or lost the war, because they would leave a legacy of ruins, famine, plague and disease that would destroy what his armies did not. Such a legacy is our inheritance. In Matthew 25:35-45 our Lord describes such conditions, and lays upon his disciples direct responsibility. "Inasmuch as ye did it not to one of the least of these, ye did it not to Me."

General Convention resolved that the National Council be instructed to raise one million dollars a year for three years for this purpose. Our Diocesan share (minimum) is $100,000 a year for three years. I know that it will be raised. Each Parish will want to have its share in this work. I commend the Parishes that have done so well and urge the others to do all they can to carry this on successfully.

In addition to this, money, clothes, shoes, blankets, bed-linen, table linen, toys, bicycles, kitchen utensils are urgently needed and we have arranged for shipment of this "material aid in kind" from the Diocese to our Collection Center at New Windsor, Maryland, from your own parish. You collect and pack the material in your own Parish and our Committee will advise you from there on.

If the clergy will tell their people about this matter, I know that the warm hearts of the people will respond.

APPENDIX B

Convention Address Suffragan Bishop

The Church's Opportunity

The Episcopal Church faces its greatest opportunity. Humanity is sick unto death; its economic system disrupted. In every country, except in the Americas, standards of living are reduced to a bare existence, while the United Nations is still a little child crying in the night without sufficient strength to substitute a new order for the old. Science has reached a dead end; it fears the Frankenstein it has created. Pathetically, a war-weary world turns now to God the Creator and Sustainer of the universe and to the Churches to proclaim and interpret God's message to His children.

Two important books have recently come to our attention: HUMAN DESTINY by Lecomte du Noüy and A STUDY OF HISTORY by Arnold Toynbee. The first is a biologist's reasoned argument for design in the universe, definite refutation of the old idea that the earth and man gradually evolved by chance. This is going to be a great help to the student wrestling with the problem of creation. The college bred of a generation ago used to laugh with H. L. Mencken at the blindness of the "Bible belt," now they can laugh with Millikan at the bankruptcy of mechanistic philosophy, or with the English wit C. S. Lewis over ethical relativism. Toynbee in his STUDY OF HISTORY refutes Spengler's DECLINE OF THE WEST by projecting stages of civilization which have risen and fallen, but each rising on their dead ashes to build better and nobler foundations. Ultimately, they will emerge as Jesus' Kingdom of God. This also is all to the good in these uncertain days. It puts back God into history as du Noüy has put a designing Creator into evolution.

The Challenge

These things would not command such attention at a Dioceasan Convention if they had not become the subjects of thoughtful consideration by all of us who read magazines like TIME and LIFE. An editorial appearing recently in LIFE and published also in TIME challenges the Churches to do something to show a despairing world "The Road to Religion." The relevancy of this challenge to the Churches is that it points out three streams of Christian thought in times past which now must merge if the Church is to recover its leadership. The Mystic, the "God-intoxicated Man" is needed as in all ages to cry aloud, "I have seen Him"; "I know that my Redeemer liveth." When the Reformation came, its effect was to stress the ethical teachings of Christ. That was the second stream. From the Reformation, new codes of morals multiplied until the worship of God was nearly lost as in our Lord's day by discussions over the letter of the law instead of the spirit. The third stream was humanism. Now we have discovered with St. Paul that good works without faith are not enough. Saints, moralists, and philanthropists are all needed, but any one without the others is unable to save our modern world. Religion without morals is a mockery to a Righteous God; morals without religion is a makeshift in the changing mores of a changing world; and good works without faith is vain since there is no reasoned doctrine of God in His relation to man or of Man in his dealings with his neighbor. To say, "Rise up and walk" does not forgive men their sins or strike at the root of man's greed and selfishness.

When these three streams flow together, the whole Gospel to the whole of humanity can be preached and lived and a mighty river will emerge which will water the parched lands left by man's clumsy culture of God's earth.

These thoughts have been crystallizing in my mind as I have been studying them in the daily contacts I have had with our parishes, clergy and lay people and with the various social agencies and institutions of our Diocese. The continued emphasis of the Episcopal Church on confirmation should enable us to perceive and know what things we ought to do and then to win grace and power faithfully to fulfill the same. No Convention and no Church has a right to expect that outpouring of God's Holy Spirit unless it is willing to be guided by that Holy Spirit.

Christian Social Relations

It is in this spirit that I have been trying to approach the problems which confront us in Christian social relations and in a program to define and integrate the connection which the Diocese has with its twenty-five Episcopal agencies and institutions. The Report of the Joint Committee appointed by Bishop Hart to review the Study undertaken by resolution of this Convention has been printed and in your hands for some time. I beg of you not to pass it over and postpone decisions which should be made before it becomes too late. The Survey has been well done, is constructive and fair, and deals with matters which have needed clarification for many years and which are taking up much valuable time of both Bishops. I have become convinced that a professionally competent man is needed to develop and promote an overall program of Social Education and to act as consultant (when invited) to relate our agencies and institutions to the Diocese in ways which will be of mutual benefit to all.

The Study submitted calls for the appointment of an Executive Secretary professionally trained both in Christian social relations and in the administration of agencies and institutions under the auspices of the Church. To carry out this plan, an enlarged budget for the Department of Christian Social Relations will be required. The problem of determining the amount of the budget should be left in the hands of the Bishop and the Executive Council who can best weigh the factors involved and the money available. Any sum would be well spent if we could be certain that it would gain the desired end. A well-considered program of social education would undoubtedly help in the clarification of many old problems, disclose new opportunities, and awaken the Diocese and its parishes to face courageously the application of Christian principles to the life of the community, the nation, and the world. The wisdom of a spirit-filled Church in the solution of immediate and pressing questions is needed as never before and the time is growing short. We cannot afford to be silent or inactive when there are wrongs to be righted and the relations of man to his neighbor are creating divisions and strife. No sum of money is too great for the Church to expend if we can develop a constructive program which will enlist us in a war to combat greed, selfishness, and man's inhumanity to man. These are real issues and we must face them boldly. In so doing, we would regain the interest and secure the help of many of our members both old and new who want to see the Church reassert its leadership in affairs which they consider most vital. Social service and neighborly relations are definite parts of our Missionary enterprise. It is our conviction that many of the thoughtful among our returned veterans are waiting hopefully for just such leadership before they return to the pews.

That Pennsylvania has not been unmindful of its duties in this respect is attested by the activities, not only of our present Department of Christian Social Relations, but by the efficient and varied services we are rendering through the many agencies and institutions connected with this Diocese.

These latter have been so long established and have built up such capable management that we are of the opinion that it would be unwise to interfere in their administration. However, we have the hope that with the employment of a professionally trained Executive, most of them would welcome the advice and counsel he could give and come to see the value of closer ties with a Church which was aroused, intelligent, and competent. When any agency or institution drifts away from the Church, it is for one of several reasons: it no longer needs the Church's financial aid, no Episcopal authority has interested himself in its affairs, or it believes the Church is not competent to deal understandingly with the problems it faces.

Your Joint Committee is agreed that a very real need has been disclosed. We assume no responsibility for the study itself, but only for our own conclusions and decisions. We believe that this matter should not and need not be deferred on account of the expense involved. Such action would be unworthy of a Diocese so generous in its response to imperative needs.

We should arrive at our decision on the basis as to whether: 1. A very real need has been revealed by the Report of the Survey and whether 2. An Executive Secretary for a reorganized Department of Christian Social Relations is the answer to our need. He will have to be wise enough not to interfere in the administrative functions of any of our old and well-established agencies or institutions.

Like every problem of management or organization, the deciding factor will be the person called to act as Executive Secretary. We believe it would be wise to define and clarify the duties and responsibilities of such an office before approaching any candidate. Furthermore, we think that certain checks should be put upon the area of his activities so that the Bishop and Executive Council may be able to guide the Department in all major policies and decisions.

Christian World Order

Besides my other duties in the Diocese, Bishop Hart assigned to me the Chairmanship of our Commitee on Christian World Order. I am making a brief report to the Convention on the activities of that Committee which will be presented in due form. What interests me in this address is the relation of Christian principles in international affairs to social education and understanding in community welfare. The Lazarus, that beggar who lies at our own gate full of sores is the same Lazarus of displaced persons in Europe or the slaves in Russian concentration camps. There will be little hope of our extending the American Way of Life in international affairs unless we can show the world a better and a more Christian way. Any discrimination of race or of labor practice, any increase of crime, any neglect to heal the divisions in our own economic or social relations, any corruption in our political life is now broadcast to the world. It has repercussions in every nation. The spirit of neighborliness begins with the man next door. This Diocese leads all others in its gifts to missionary causes, in reconstruction, and in efforts to mitigate the sufferings in Europe and in Asia. All this is to the good and we thank God. However, if we fail in our efforts to promote an educational program in social and economic questions at home, we shall be illy equipped to understand the larger issues of a changing world in which these matters are now and will continue to be the grass roots of a more abundant life.

Needed Reconstruction at Home as well as Abroad

It is my hope that a well organized Department of Christian Social Relations will help restore our faith in the application of Christian principles to everdyday life at home, and thus prepare us for larger and more Christian participation in world affairs. Unless these streams of religion, ethics, and philanthropy can be merged in one mighty river, the Churches cannot expect to revive that leadership, which in the Early Church was holy in its adherence to God's righteousness, catholic in the sense of universality, and apostolic in its power derived from the Head of the Church Himself.

Mrs. Remington and I have had a happy and busy life this past year only handicapped by her attack of pneumonia last summer and her inability to serve the Diocese in many helpful ways. We are most grateful for the provision of the Mackay-Smith House in Wynnewood as a home for us and future Bishops. It is quite adequate and we are now ready to extend hospitality as Bishops should.

In my first address at our last Convention, I quoted our Lord's words, "The Kingdom of God cometh not by observation." I now quote the angel's word at the Ascension. "Why stand ye gazing up into heaven, this same Jesus which is taken up from you into heaven shall so come in like manner." It was the urgency of the Second Coming which drove the disciples to preach a gospel which "turned the world upside down." That same urgency is upon us now. It requires something more of us as Christians than to stand gazing up into heaven.

"Rise up, O men of God!
Have done with lesser things,
Give heart, and soul, and mind, and strength
To serve the King of kings."

Mr. George W. Wilkins

The Bishop having given his approval, the Standing Committee unanimously approved applications from

Redeemer Mission, Springfield
St. James's Mission, Langhorne

for permission to organize as a parish.

The Standing Committee gave its conditional consent to the sale by St. Andrew's Church, West Philadelphia, of its Rectory at 3604 Baring Street, Philadelphia.

The Standing Committee gave its consent to the sale by The Church of the Holy Trinity, Philadelphia, of the Church property known as Holy Trinity Parish House, located at 217 South 20th Street, Philadelphia, to the Lincoln College Preparatory School.

The Standing Committee approved the execution by the Bishop of a deed of trust prepared by the Chancellor, conveying the property upon which stands the Church of The Incarnation, Morrisville, to The Church Foundation.

The Standing Committee approved the sale of St. John's, Kelton (New London).

The Standing Committee advised the Bishop that the petition of St. James's Church, Philadelphia, to change its site to Chichester Road and Concord Road, Green Ridge, Aston Township, Delaware County, Penna., be approved.

The Standing Committee reports that the Bishop Suffragan is now in residence at the Bishop Mackay-Smith Memorial House, 352 Penn Road, Wynnewood, Penna., which was purchased by the Standing Committee for the Diocese of Pennsylvania, the sum of approximately $7,500 having been expended for necessary repairs.

At the meeting of the Standing Committee held on May 7, 1946, the following resolutions concerning the purchase of the residence for the Suffragan Bishop were approved, and the Secretary of the Committee was directed to present them to Convention:

WHEREAS, the Diocesan Convention of 1942 (JOURNAL, p. 43) authorized the Standing Committee to purchase a house, or to buy land and build one, for an Episcopal Residence, by the expenditure of the necessary money from the Episcopal Residences Fund and/or, with the approval of The Church Foundation, from the Bishop Mackay-Smith Memorial House Fund, in which latter case the house to be known as "The Bishop Mackay-Smith Memorial House"; and,

WHEREAS, the Standing Committee has reported that it has contracted to buy the residence property known as 352 Penn Road, Wynnewood, Lower Merion Township, Montgomery County, Pa., for an Episcopal Residence to be known as "The Bishop Mackay-Smith Memorial House", and to be used, for the present, as a residence for the Bishop Suffragan, for $27,500 cash, and the Chancellor had advised that the Bishop Mackay-Smith Memorial House Fund in trust with The Church Foundation may properly be used for the purpose;

RESOLVED: That the Convention approves of the action of the Standing Committee in entering into said contract, and of the action of The Church Foundation in appropriating $2500 from the Episcopal Residences Fund as first payment on said contract, and the Convention directs that the title to the same be taken by The Church Foundation in trust under terms approved by the Chancellor, and that The Church Foundation, when tendered a deed conveying an insurable title, be authorized and directed to pay the balance of the purchase price and all expenses of conveyance and title insurance from the Episcopal Residences Fund and/or the Bishop Mackay-Smith Memorial House Fund principal, if The Church Foundation so approves, and that the house be known as "The Bishop Mackay-Smith Memorial House"; and,

RESOLVED: That if circumstances should, in the opinion of the Standing Committee, make it desirable at some time in the future to lease, mortgage, or sell the said premises, the Standing Committee is hereby authorized to direct The Church Foundation to lease, mortgage or sell the premises, provided that in the event of a sale such proportion of the proceeds as may be attributable to the Bishop Mackay-Smith Memorial Fund shall be restored to The Church Foundation as trustee for that Fund, to be used for the purchase or erection, in whole or in part, of another Episcopal Residence or Administration House to be known as "The Bishop Mackay-Smith Memorial House", as the Convention of the Diocese may hereafter direct; and that such proportion of said proceeds as may be attributable to the Episcopal Residences Fund shall be restored to The Church Foundation to be held as a part of said Fund, subject to the future order of the Convention; and

RESOLVED: That, if, in the judgment of The Standing Committee, it shall become necessary or expedient to purchase or erect another Episcopal Residence at some time in the future, the balance in the Episcopal Residences Fund after completion of the present purchase shall be held by The Church Foundation subject to the call of the Standing Committee for that purpose, until further action by the Convention; and,

RESOLVED: That the net income from the balance in the Episcopal Residences Fund be paid regularly to the Treasurer of the Diocese and by him added to the income from the Fund for the Endowment of the Episcopate, and from the latter income shall be paid such expenses of use and maintenance of the property now being purchased as, in the opinion of the Standing Committee, should be borne by the Diocese; and

RESOLVED: That this Convention hereby authorizes and directs The Church Foundation to lease, sell or mortgage the said premises at such times and on such terms as the Standing Committee may from time to time direct.

WILLIAM H. DUBARRY,
Secretary.

APPENDIX G

Report of the Treasurer of the Diocese of Pennsylvania, 1946

The report of the Treasurer of the Diocese of Pennsylvania for the year 1946, audited by Charles S. Rockey and Company, certified public accountants, is submitted herewith.

Under the leadership of Bishop Hart, Bishop Remington and the Field Department, we have met our obligation to the National Council, paid all our bills and carried forward our diocesan missionary work. The surplus in the 1945 and 1946 Missionary Funds have, for example, been of great assistance in the establishment of St. Philip-in-the-Fields, Oreland, St. Peter, Broomall, and for other new work.

Every parish and mission paid something on its accepted proportionate share. In the aggregate, all parishes and missions overpaid 6.8 per cent; ten paid less than their share, of these, two have since settled in full; eight paid who had no acceptance; one hundred forty-eight paid over their accepted amounts. Truly, this is an inspiring record of which you who have made it possible can well be proud. It was not done without plenty of hard work and self-sacrifice.

In a year when much is heard about the inefficiency of office staffs, it is a pleasure to record our thanks to those in the Church House Staff who have worked long, hard and competently.

FREDERICK R. DRAYTON,
Treasurer.

JOSHUA ASH PEARSON,
Assistant Treasurer.

APPENDIX H

Report of the Departments of the Executive Council

DEPARTMENT OF CHRISTIAN SOCIAL RELATIONS

ANNUAL REPORT FOR 1946-1947

The Department met and organized with the following as officers:

Rev. E. Felix Kloman, D.D., Chairman
Mr. William O. Gilbert, Vice-Chairman
Rev. Leonard Rasmusson, Secretary

Sub-Committees were appointed as follows:

Mental Health, Dr. E. M. Burn, Chairman
Interracial, Rev. E. Sydnor Thomas, Chairman
Publicity, Mr. James Fleming, Chairman
Cooperation with Social Agencies, Miss Blanche Nicola, Chairman, and Rev. Robert Morris, Co-chairman and Survey Committee.

The budget for 1947 approved by the Executive Council is as follows:

Office Expenses	$100.00
Monthly News Sheet	200.00
Promotion and Education	200.00
Philadelphia Council of Churches	150.00
State Federation of Churches	100.00
Central Committee, Diocese of Pennsylvania	100.00
Federation Council of Churches	100.00
World Council of Churches	50.00
Total	$1,000.00

The action of the 1946 Diocesan Convention made $1,000 available for the Survey of the Christian Social Relations needs of the Diocese. The Department assisted Bishop Hart in securing the services of the Rev. Almon R. Pepper, D.D., of the Division of Christian Social Relations of the National Council, to conduct the survey. A committee of the Department consisting of Rev. Messrs. Rasmusson, Turner, Mr. Mauck and Mrs. Austin, was appointed to assist Dr. Pepper and to cooperate with Bishop Remington's Committee on Institutions which is also working with Dr. Pepper. The survey report will be printed, distributed and submitted as a supplement to the Department's report.

The Mental Health Committee, under Dr. Burn, sent a letter to all the clergy with reference to the National Mental Health Foundation and the service the Foundation stands ready to furnish the parishes. A course was conducted by Dr. Burn in May at the Philadelphia Divinity School for the Clergy.

The Interracial Committee was active in promoting participation of the parishes in Race Relations Sunday and Brotherhood Week. Resource material was sent to all the clergy. The Committee reports much wider participation in 1947 than formerly.

The Department cooperated with Mrs. Trowbridge and her Committee of the Woman's Auxiliary on the Material Aid Program for the Devastated Areas. Coupon books distributed to the parishes accounted for many bred-heifers being sent to Europe.

Father Wood and Mr. Fleming have been active in the field of housing. Mrs. D. S. Montgomery of the Philadelphia Housing Association addressed the Department about the housing situation in Philadelphia and the need for an aroused public opinion.

Dr. Collins issued for the Department for the General Convention Deputies and visitors a splendid Directory of Diocesan Social Agencies which had been long needed.

The Committee on Cooperation with Social Agencies conducted a Corporate Communion and breakfast for Episcopal Social Workers at Christ Church on February 7th. The speaker at the breakfast was the Rev. Ernest E. Bruder, Chaplain at St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Washington, D. C.

A meeting of the Central Committee of the five dioceses of Pennsylvania was held in Harrisburg in January. The absence of Mr. Clinton Rogers Woodruff, who for so many years has been a guiding spirit, was felt deeply. The Committee was reorganized with Dr. Kloman as Chairman and the Rev. Robert Batchelder, of Lancaster, as Secretary-Treasurer. The Committee will meet regularly during the session of the State Legislature to keep in touch with matters as they concern the five dioceses.

Mr. Fleming and his Committee on Publicity has sent regular releases from the Department to the daily press, the Church press and the Diocesan Church News.

The Department respectfully urges the Diocesan Convention to consider the report of the Survey of the Christian Social Relation needs of the Diocese. Action on this report can go far toward giving the Diocese the leadership it needs in this field.

LEONARD RASMUSSON,
Secretary.

FIELD DEPARTMENT—1946

The Reconstruction and Advance Program occupied a prominent place in the work of the Diocese of Pennsylvania for 1946, inasmuch as the Parish Offerings in most parishes were taken sometime after January 1st and as late as September 1st in this year.

Never before has the Diocese responded to a Missionary Appeal by any of our Bishops in such a generous way. More than $175,000 was the amount of the Parish Offering. This, added to the $400,000 from the Special Gifts Committee, makes a total of well on to $600,000 from the Diocese of Pennsylvania. We were told at General Convention that this was the largest amount contributed by any Diocese. We are grateful indeed to the people of our Diocese, clergy, laymen and women, who were given such inspired leadership by our Bishops, for this magnificent gift to the Reconstruction and Forward Work of our Church throughout the world.

The Diocese has gone forward in its regular missionary contributions for the last five years. Bishop Hart has made clear to the Clergy what he wants done and we are only too willing and anxious to come up to his expectations of what we might do. We are advancing step by step, and in 1947 we have been asked to take a big step—an increase of about $50,000. Again the parishes and missions have indicated their willingness to meet the challenge that was presented to them, and when the final figures for 1947 are in hand, we believe that once again the Diocese will have done whatever was asked of it.

The leadership of Bishop Hart and Bishop Remington has made a tremendous difference in the life of our Diocese, and we may well thank God that they are here leading us on to a more complete and wholehearted service in His Name.

CHARLES W. SHREINER,
Chairman.

DEPARTMENT OF CHRISTIAN EDUCATION

ANNUAL REPORT FOR 1946

A backward glance at the Department of Christian Education for the year 1946 will reveal several changes. In February, Miss Elizabeth P. Frazier, who had been Administrative Secretary for many years, left the Department. During the years that she was connected with the Department, she contributed much to the development of Christian Education in this Diocese. Miss Beryl M. Newman was appointed to fill the vacancy. We were happy with this appointment, since Miss Newman had been Assistant Secretary for several years, and therefore was thoroughly familiar with the duties and problems of her new position. Miss M. Harley Mulford was appointed Secretary.

The Department also accepted with regret the resignation of the Chairman, the Rev. Frederick W. Blatz, who had acted in that capacity so ably since 1942. Under Mr. Blatz's leadership, the Department experienced a sound and healthy growth. We were sorry to lose Mr. Blatz, and wish him Godspeed in his work in the Diocese of New Jersey.

At the Spring Meeting, the present Chairman was elected, and it is his sincere and earnest desire to serve the Department to the very best of his ability. Nothing would give him greater happiness than to be able to continue the growth and development of Christian Education in this Diocese, and add to the past a worthy future.

Another loss that was felt very deeply was the death of Miss Helen C. Washburn, who for many years gave so unselfishly of her time and talents for the advancement of Christian Education, and in particular, in the field of weekday religious education.

One of the most outstanding events of the past year was, undoubtedly, a clergy conference on Christian Education, held at the Episcopal Academy in the late spring. This conference, called by Bishop Hart, was warmly received by all and proved to fill a real need. We hope that we will be able to have these conferences annually.

From the various Committee reports, one can clearly get a picture of the continued progress of the work of the Department of Christian Education. We, indeed, are fortunate to have many members and other volunteers who give so freely of their time and efforts. We know they do it because they are so thoroughly convinced of the importance of the duties assigned to them, and firmly believe in the need of sound Christian Education in a world filled with selfishness and materialism.

Committee on Church Schools,
Mrs. George C. Bland, Chairman

The Church School Committee of the Department of Christian Education prepared for use with young people in our Church Schools a "Test of Factual Knowledge." The Committee wanted to know if the lack of specific knowledge of the Christian religion indicated in the discussions in the Commission of Christian Education of the House of Bishops in 1945, and indicated also in the Chaplain's Report published at about the same time, existed in the Senior groups in the Church Schools of this Diocese. Other purposes to be served by the test were: to stir up interest among teachers, parents and young people; to supply a means of finding out the strong and weak points of the educational work of a parish, in so far as the teaching of "facts" is concerned.

In conjunction with the Special Offerings Committee, a leaflet to supplement the Lenten material provided by the National Division of Christian Education was prepared by the Church School Committee. It is encouraging that more parishes than heretofore used the resources of the Diocesan Department for their Lenten Study programs.

A special Clergy Conference was called by Bishop Hart at the request of this Committee at the Episcopal Academy on June 10, 1946. The Rev. Matthew M. Warren, of Atlanta, Georgia, lecturer on Christian Education at Virginia Seminary, was the guest speaker. His analysis of the characteristics of children of different age levels was enlightening, and was enthusiastically received. Reports of work bearing on Christian Education within our Church Schools were made by members of the Department.

"A Unit of Study on the Church in Preparation for General Convention" was written under the guidance of the Church School Committee, for use by Woman's Auxiliary, Church School and Young People's groups.

The Church School Committee was asked to evaluate the curriculum of the Church School by Mail, and Mrs. C. Stanley Rogers served as Chairman of a special Committee to make the evaluation. A full report of the findings of the special Committee was given by Mrs. Rogers to both the Church School by Mail Committee, and the Church School Committee.

The 76th Annual Church School Institute was held on Monday, October 7, 1946, with the Rev. Daniel A. McGregor, Executive Secretary of the Division of Christian Education of the National Council, as the speaker. Dr. McGregor brought to the group cheering news of an awakened interest in Christian Education throughout the Church and in General Convention. The Exhibit at the Institute was given over to Visual Education.

Committee on Special Offerings,
The Rev. W. Roulston McKean, Chairman

The Lenten Offering, raised under the supervision of this Committee, amounted to $56,993.51, an increase of $3,150.67 over the previous year. The Offering was again presented at a great outdoor service on the grounds of Episcopal Academy on May 19th. Bishop Hart received the offering, and Bishop Remington, our new Suffragan Bishop, made the address.

The Committee cooperated with the Church School in preparing a Lenten Guide for Church School leaders.

The Advent Offering from the children of the Diocese, amounting to $1,295.05, was for the new mission, St. Peter's, Broomall.

Our Church Schools, under the very capable direction of Mrs. Lorin Blodget, sent over 1,000 gifts to our missions in the Philippines, and 2,009 gifts, from twenty-seven parishes, to our missions and institutions in this Diocese.

The Birthday Thank Offering amounted to $145.97.

Committee on Visual Education,
The Rev. Charles B. Mauch, Chairman

This Committee, reorganized under the chairmanship of Mr. Mauch, has, in its short existence, done a very effective work. At the Church School Institute they had an exhibit on visual aids; projectors for films, filmstrips, and slides; screens, films, slides, pictures, etc., that was of real value to those interested in this new method of education, as well as enlightening to those who are not so familiar with it.

The Committee purchased an S. V. E. projector, folding screen, and started a lending library of filmstrips. They are considering ways of enlarging our present library of slides and filmstrips, so that we can fill the needs of all our parishes at a very low cost.

Committee on Vacation Church Schools,
Miss Eleanor A. Deane, Chairman

The tremendous value of the Vacation Church School in the Christian Education program of the parishes is not widely recognized, but we do have in this Diocese several parishes that are doing notable work in this field. We do not have a complete record of the number of schools held last summer, but we do know of 26 schools—ten of which were financially aided by the Department. The Committee in charge of this work has been watching with keen interest, and much gratification, the excellent work going on at the Church of the Annunciation. Two years ago, after a survey of that community, the Committee voted to substantially support a Vacation Church School in that parish, and the results after only two years of the experiment has justified the Committee's belief in its worth, not only to the parish, but to the entire community.

Committee on Weekday Religious Education,
Dr. Henry J. Gideon, Chairman

This Committee feels keenly and continuously the irreparable loss of our beloved Chairman, Miss Helen C. Washburn, who died on January 29, 1946. Miss Washburn served as Chairman of the Committee from the time of its organization in 1939 until her death. As the Committee goes about into the areas where she has visited, it finds everywhere evidences of her influence and leadership. This Committee has been able to carry on the study which she started largely because of her vision and genius for organization.

Seven sub-committees have been active during the year, and it was largely through the suggestion of our Committee on Training Personnel that Temple University was persuaded to set up certain courses in Religious Education for prospective teachers.

The Committee on Inter-Faith Cooperation took the initiative in the matter of re-establishing the Inter-Faith Committee of the Philadelphia Council of Churches, which had become inactive after the retirement of its Chairman, Mr. Easton.

The critical teacher shortage throughout the area reflects itself in the number and quality of available teachers for Weekday Schools, and is definitely handicapping satisfactory experimentation in this field. The clergy of every parish in the Diocese have been repeatedly urged by letter and personal contact to submit names of prospective teachers whom they may know as trained for this field of work. To date, the replies have been so few in number that the Committee realizes that this work cannot go forward unless, and until, greater numbers of teachers are available and full time teachers can be secured.

The Study Committee on the Community Type Schools has been visiting and studying most of the Weekday Schools so far established in this Diocese. There are upwards of twelve such schools in operation, and our Committee is making an intensive study of several. The Committee has furnished one teacher for each of the following schools: Ambler, Jenkintown, Stonehurst Hills, Garretsford. The school in Jenkintown has been in successful operation for many years, but the schools in the other centers represent new ventures in this field. The Committee hopes to complete its study and to report on its findings by the close of 1948.

Church School by Mail,
The Rev. John C. Knewstub, Chairman
Miss Dorothy E. Kohl, Director

During 1946, 282 children were on the roll. Forty-five succeeded in attending the nearest Sunday School, some moved, and other out-grew the Church School by Mail, leaving a total at the end of the year of 186. Of these, there are 135 in Chester Convocation, 20 in Norristown Convocation, 29 in Germantown Convocation, and two miscellaneous. Approximately 10,550 lessons were mailed, to which 70% responded with return question sheets, 10% by letters, and 20% through visits. The worker made 136 visits with the aid of six Clergy and five lay drivers. Baptisms numbered 14, 11 at St. James, Downingtown, and three at Paoli; confirmations five, one at Emmanuel, Quakertown, and four at St. James, Downingtown.

The Curriculum was evaluated under the supervision of the Church School Committee; and new lessons for each grade are being planned by the worker during this year and next. Our ultimate aim is to bring the children and their families into a closer relationship with the local Church, where they may have proper pastoral care, and grow into the life and work of the Church fellowship.

Youth Commission,
The Rev. Louis E. Fifer, III, Chairman

The Diocesan Youth Convention was held on January 5th at the Church of the Holy Apostles and the Mediator. Everyone felt that the highlight of the program was the beautiful and impressive Candle-light Service.

This past year saw the young people of the Diocese actively preparing for General Convention and the first National Youth Convention of our Church. Under the direction of the Youth Commission, they planned for—and entertained—the delegates from 85 dioceses to the Youth Convention which was held at the University of Pennsylvania Christian Association, September 13th to 15th.

Last fall the Youth Commission was granted permission to organize the youth work in the Diocese under the U. M. C. Y. program. This is now being done, and 1947 we hope will see the young people of the Diocese planning and executing their own U. M. C. Y. adapted program.

Committee on Summer Conference,
The Rev. Aaron Manderbach, Chairman

The Eighth Diocesan Summer Conference was held at Beaver College, Jenkintown, Pa., July 7 to 12, 1946. The Rt. Rev. William P. Remington, D.D., S.T.D., Suffragan Bishop of Pennsylvania, was our Chaplain, and the Rev. Peter C. Van der Hiel, Jr., Dean. Our total enrollment, including faculty and staff, was 173, of which 102 were under the age of 20.

Adult Committee,
The Rev. J. Wesley Twelves, Chairman

The attention of the Adult Committee during the past year has centered around Parent Education and Christian Family Life.

An experimental project was carried out in ten parishes with parents of young children. Several visits were made upon twenty-six families having children under four years of age. Definite suggestions were made for developing religion in the home. The experiment was well received and a similar project is under way for 1947.

We look forward to the formation of a Guild of Visitors in the Diocese. These visitors will keep in touch with parents of young children in their several parishes.

Committee on Schools of Christian Education,
The Rev. Herbert W. Jones, Chairman

The School of Christian Education was held on six Tuesdays, beginning October 15th, with a registration of 129 from 54 parishes. The theme of study was "This Redeeming Fellowship." The courses provided an opportunity for the study of the Fellowship, examining the sources of its life in the Bible, in Christian History and in the lives of some of its outstanding personalities.

The Winter Conference was held on the five Tuesdays beginning January 22nd, with a registration of 161 from 57 parishes. One of the outstanding courses in this school was "Christian Action on Four Fronts," based on the statement adopted by the Commission on a Just and Durable Peace.

Committee on Reference,
The Rev. Charles F. Ehly, Chairman

The study being conducted by this Committee on preparation for Confirmation has been concluded, and the findings published in a leaflet by the Department of Christian Education. The report was presented by the Chairman of the Committee to the Clergy of the Diocese at a special Clergy Conference on Christian Education called by the Bishop in June, 1946. Copies of the report may be obtained from Room 30, Church House.

PETER C. VAN DER HIEL,
Chairman.

REPORT OF THE DEPARTMENT OF MISSIONS

Shifts in population within the city and in the suburban and rural areas of the Diocese, promotion of new work in resulting new developments, adequate recognition of the Vicars who carry on the work in our diocesan missions, and the formulation of a strong diocesan policy in missionary activities, are the chief concerns of the Department of Missions in its efforts to carry forward the work of Church extension in the Diocese.

The program of this Department is naturally always in the making because of constantly changing conditions. The Deans keep in close touch with the parishes and missions in their convocations. They report upon the needs within their fields and outline their plans for meeting them. This Department gives careful consideration to their reports and plans and makes recommendations to the Executive Council for making these plans effective. Under present conditions of rapidly shifting population, the Deans in the Philadelphia area must spend most of their energies in conferring and planning with Rectors and parishes in which the communicant membership is showing a decrease, while the Deans of our suburban and rural areas give most of their attention to the establishment of new work in new developments.

The detailed report of changes for the better and for the worse will be found in the reports of the Deans themselves when published in the Diocesan JOURNAL. Members of the Convention will find reasons for satisfaction in the new work begun in suburban and rural areas. They will note, too, the necessity for continued attention on the part of the Philadelphia Deans to the serious problems constantly arising from shifts in population.

These shifts are of paramount concern to the whole Diocese. They have changed and are rapidly changing the character of our city parishes and creating opportunities for spiritual ministrations to the increasing Negro population in the city and to the white population which is gradually moving out of the city limits. The newly created Board of Strategy has already, through its recommendations, proved of great help in the consideration of some of these problems. We believe that their attention to others will be very much needed as the years go on. There can be no doubt but that these two trends in shifting populations will have important bearing upon the work of churches in the city and those in the outlying convocations.

This Department recommends that parishes in the city assign to themselves the task of evaluating again their work and surveying their present fields so that they may even now, in the present, look into the future and plan for vigorous continuance of their work in their present locations or in other parts of the Diocese. The Committee appointed last year to make recommendations with reference to Negro work has held several meetings but reports as yet no definite recommendations because of the possible rearrangement of the boundaries of convocations.

We note with satisfaction that the salaries of Vicars have been increased by the amount of $300, $200 in each case from the Diocese and $100 from the missions themselves.

We know that the Convention will be gratified to learn that the Secretary of the Diocese has reported the receipt of a copy of the will of the late J. Hartley Merrick, leaving the residue of his estate in trust for missionary work in the Diocese of Pennsylvania, and that the share coming to the Diocese might be $100,000.

Finally, the Department notes with thankfulness that the Chairman of the Field Department informed our October meeting that the Diocese had accepted a figure of $203,000 from the National Church for general missionary work.

CHARLES E. TUKE,.
Chairman.

REPORT OF THE DEPARTMENT OF PUBLICITY FOR 1946

The past year has probably been the busiest one the Department of Publicity has gone through. This was due partly to its work for the General Convention. Although the Committee of Publicity and Printing for the General Convention was a separate one, the personnel was the same, plus some additional members, so we shall include our work for the General Convention as part of this report, and shall refer to it first.

The Publicity Committee for the Triennial Convention of 1946 was created February 1st with two sub-committees, one for radio and one for printing. These three committees were promptly organized with members who it was believed would be useful and interested. The writer was appointed General Chairman of the Publicity and the Printing Committees, and the Rev. J. Jarden Guenther, Chairman of the Sub-Committee for Radio Publicity. At a later date the Post Office for the Convention was put under our supervision. After organization, several meetings were held to develop plans for our work and these were attended by the Rev. John W. Irwin of the General Convention Office for Publicity of New York.

One of our important tasks was the getting out of a Convention issue of our Church News. We planned and issued a forty-page Convention edition and for its leading articles we were fortunate in getting former Justice Owen J. Roberts and Chairman Thomas S. Gates to contribute. In addition there were a number of shorter articles about the work the Convention planned to do, Convention personalities, the Woman's Auxiliary, Brotherhood of St. Andrew, Church Periodical Club, programs of the Convention, a special map of Philadelphia showing churches, places of interest and numerous cuts illustrating places and events.

As it was decided to get out an edition of 20,000, we felt justified in about tripling the advertising space rates, which we had been charging for our yearly Church News. We found it quite difficult to secure advertisements due to the prejudice against Church magazines among business organizations. However, with some professional help, we sold $1,771.75 of space.

I want to give much credit and appreciation to the Rev. Albert O. Judd, the Editor in Chief, and the Rev. Henry S. Paynter, Business Manager of the Church News for their ability, efforts, and success in getting the News out before August 1st, which was ample time to send it to each and every delegate before they started for the Convention. We have reason to feel that the News contributed considerably to the interest in the Convention, as well as to the information needed by the delegates.

It was also found advisable to employ for ten weeks a professional publicity agent at a cost of $500. The person employed was Miss Martha T. Everett, a Church woman, who was truly interested and we felt did a good job for the short time she acted.

The Convention edition of the Church News was sent to each delegate, as stated above, and was sold in bulk to a number of parishes in our Diocese and to quite a few in New Jersey. These copies were sold at $.05 instead of $.15, the stated price. Our regular subscribers were sent a copy as a bonus to their regular subscription. We would have liked to have sold copies at the several meeting places of the Convention, thereby increasing our cash receipts, but this was not permitted.

The Woman's Auxiliary worked in close touch with the Publicity Committee, and we tried to give them all they asked for in the way of publicity. After the Convention started, the women published a daily sheet under the name of Triennial

Daily. This was edited by Mrs. J. Holcombe Genung and was a newsy and interesting sheet and was appreciated by all.

In presenting the Report of the Sub-Committee on Radio, the Rev. J. Jarden Guenther wishes first of all to express appreciation of the splendid cooperation given by the radio stations in Philadelphia, all but one of which had one or more broadcasts. The Committee would also thank all who helped to arrange the programs and all who participated. Beginning Saturday, September 7th, and continuing until and including Friday the 20th, the final day of General Convention, there were daily comments, interviews or broadcasts of addresses. The addresses of the Archbishop of Canterbury were carried over a nationwide hook-up in this country and over BBC in England.

The Church News published by the Department of Publicity of the Diocese printed eight issues during the year and tried to report on all important activities of the Diocese. In addition it contained in each number several articles of interest or instruction by writers qualified to write them. We are pleased to report that beginning last fall we printed 7,500 copies instead of 3,500 as formerly, and they are being distributed largely as bulk sales to parishes.

Probably the most important functions of the Department of Publicity are its outside contacts in distributing news of the Diocese and collecting news items for the information of the Clergy and laymen. News releases are sent to all the National Church papers and many times they request permission to reprint articles from our Church News. Intimate and friendly relations are maintained with local secular papers and these help us in distribution of religious news. All diocesan convocations are covered as well as other meetings in which the Diocese has an interest.

In closing my report, I must urge much greater cooperation by the Clergy and Vestrymen of the Diocese in the distribution of the Church News. The added income we would receive will enable us to give you a larger and better magazine and I feel would help you to increase your members' interest in the Church.

R. Marshall Truitt,
Chairman.

REPORT OF THE DEPARTMENT OF PROPERTY

The Department cooperated with the Standing Committee in the selection, appraisal and purchase of a residence for the Bishop Suffragan at 352 Penn Road, Wynnewood, Pa. The renovation of the residence will be completed shortly.

Painting and alterations at the Church House in preparation for the General Convention were supervised also.

Inspection was made of 1908 Stanwood Street with regard to its purchase as a Rectory for Ascension, Rhawnhurst.

A report on conditions at the Parish House at St. Elisabeth was made and estimates on repairs to the tower obtained.

The Chairman met with a Committee of the Vestry of St. George's, Richmond, concerning a question of possession, and also vandalism of the property and forwarded the necessary legal advice from the Chancellor in the matter.

RONALD J. MCCARTHY,
Chairman.

REPORT OF THE COMMISSION ON RECRUITING FOR THE MINISTRY FOR 1946

To the Executive Council:

In 1946 the Commission on Recruiting for the Ministry made grants amounting to $718.11 to four seminary students to assist them in meeting their expenses. This was the smallest number of students in many years to whom the Commission has given assistance.

On June 15, 1946, we arranged a Conference on the Ministry for former servicemen at which there were twenty of these men present from parishes in various parts of the Diocese. The Conference evidently met a need, for the men requested that another Conference of the same character be held. Such a Conference was held January 18, 1947, attended by fifteen ex-servicemen, who were sincerely earnest and were interested to learn about the Ministry. At both Conferences there were discussion groups to give the men an opportunity to ask questions and to discuss their problems with the leaders.

The Commission would again emphasize the fact that in all its contacts with young men high-pressure methods of approach are scrupulously avoided. Also, the Commission wishes once more to express its appreciation to the parochial Clergy of the Diocese for their cooperation in supplying the names of young men in their cures whom they wished to be invited to these Conferences. Without their cooperation the Conferences would be well-nigh impossible.

In 1946, for the whole Church, 178 Deacons and 167 Priests were ordained, a decrease of 3 and 42, respectively, over the previous year. Without doubt this decrease was due to the war, when the majority of young men were in the armed forces. But it is encouraging to know that the number of Candidates for Holy Orders in 1946 was 246, an increase of 17 over 1945, and there were 817 Postulants, which is the largest number ever recorded.

One of the most urgent needs of the Church is men for the Ministry—men of real religious experience, strong characters, good and well-trained minds, with capacity for leadership.

The responsibility for recruiting for the Ministry rests in the first place upon parents, who should encourage their sons to consider the Ministry as a vocation, rather than discourage them. Vestries that must find Rectors to fill vacancies in their parishes certainly share part of this responsibility, for a parish that does not give any of its own young men to the Ministry, but depends upon other parishes for its Clergy, is a parasite.

But after all is said, the recruiting of the Ministry is a task resting largely upon the Rectors of parishes. They know the qualifications better than anyone else and they can usually make the strongest appeal, not in sermons alone, but by speaking to promising young men individually, asking them when they are of high school age to consider the Ministry as a vocation as well as law, medicine, or business, and to seek God's guidance. Instead of choosing the Ministry, they may become mechanics or farmers, but they will have given God the opportunity to guide them in their decision.

WM. NEWMAN PARKER,
Chairman.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON FINANCIAL SAFEGUARDS

The Committee is greatly pleased at the response to the Questionnaire sent to all Parishes and Missions in the Diocese on March 13, 1947. 127 answers were received as of April 11th, and of these, 76 signified that they were complying in the full observance of Canon XVI.

There is still a certain amount of non-observance of the Canon regarding the Bonding of Accounting Wardens and in the auditing of Church accounts by a C. P. A. It appears, however, to the Committee that the Accounting Wardens in the various Parishes are more aware of the beneficial results obtained in adhereing to the Canon.

We call attention to the recent action of the Board of Directors of the Church Foundation in passing the following resolution:

"Resolved, That the Church Foundation authorizes acceptance of Trusts with limited power of revocation, subject to approval of the Committee on Trusts and at the discretion of the Committee on Investments."

It is the opinion of the Committee on Financial Safeguards that if and when the details of this Plan are worked out, it will fill a long felt need in the Diocese.

Edward B. Clay, Chairman.

REPORT OF THE DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE

The Department of Finance met bi-monthly except during the summer of 1946 and gave constant thought and study to the many financial problems confronting the Diocese throughout the year.

The Committee on Financial Safeguards, a sub-committee of the Department of Finance, with Mr. Edward B. Clay as Chairman, has met during the year, and their report will be found elsewhere in the Journal.

The Department notes with pleasure that all bills of the Diocese, and its Expectation to the National Church for 1946, have been paid in full.

The Rev. Dr. Shreiner was appointed Chairman of the Budget Committee, taking the place of the late Mr. Hill.

Joshua Ash Pearson, Chairman.

CONVOCATION OF SOUTH PHILADELPHIA

The work of the Church in this Convocation has been carried on with vigor and interest by the Clergy during 1946.

We have had changes in personnel; but as change is part of the lot of mortal man, we have to expect and reckon with it. We only die when we refuse to change.

We regret the departure of the Rev. Frederick Blatz from St. Peter's, recalling the genuine interest he always displayed in the work here. His going was a decided loss.

The death of the Rev. John E. Hill, Rector of All Saints', 11th and Snyder Avenue, a former Dean of the Convocation, came as a great shock to all his friends. His long service in South Philadelphia made him a pillar in the community, while his knowledge of diocesan life and lore, with his aptitude for figures, made him a valuable member of the Budget Committee and Executive Council of the Diocese. His death was mourned by a large circle of friends.

For 1946 the parishes and missions in this Convocation met their apportionment for the work of the Diocese and General Church, and in addition filled their quota for the Reconstruction and Advance Fund, a very creditable achievement indeed.

Having a history extending back to 1825, the Church of St. Mary at Broad and South Streets closed its doors in May, 1946. The Church was sold and the congregation, including the Italians, dispersed to other Churches in the district.

Reports supplied to the Dean by the Rev. Francis Roseboro, St. Elisabeth's, 16th and Mifflin Streets, and Rev. John R. Logan, Jr., Holy Spirit Mission, at 11th and Snyder Avenue, give evidence of steady work and occasional notes of encouragement. For example, the Christmas Service at St. Elisabeth's was the best in years—with 190 persons present and 129 Communions. Church offerings were correspondingly higher in consequence—$500 at Christmas and $207.87 on St. Elisabeth's Day.

We desire to thank the members of the Woman's Aid for their loyal cooperation. Their report forms a separate part of this return.

No diocesan money has passed through the Dean's hands—incidental expenses have been met through the Dean's Contingent Fund.

FRANK BONYNGE,
Dean.

WOMAN'S AUXILIARY TO THE CONVOCATION OF SOUTH PHILADELPHIA

The meetings for 1946 were exceptionally well attended. Our January meeting was held at Holy Trinity Memorial Chapel and was devoted to the study of "Uprooted Americans." Miss Helen Skyles, missionary from Japan, gave a most interesting and educational talk on this subject. The noonday meditations were conducted by the Rev. B. Janney Rudderow. The Spring and Fall meetings were held at St. Paul's Memorial Church and St. Mark's Church, respectively.

We accepted with sincere regret the resignation of Mrs. M. Renshaw Butler as President, and Mrs. Frederick Blatz as Vice-President.

Through the continued interest and active cooperation of our officers and members it was possible to carry on our usual program of helping the Episcopal Hospital, the Elizabeth Price Martin League, Educational Day for the Blind, and the Needlework Guild. Christmas treats were provided for the children of our Mission Sunday Schools; $200 was given to St. Elisabeth's Church for building repairs, and a special contribution to the Reconstruction and Advance Fund.

MARTHA W. MATTHEWS,
Secretary.

CONVOCATION OF NORTH PHILADELPHIA

During the year, the Rev. Fletcher Pinckney Wood was appointed Vicar of St. Ambrose Mission, succeeding the Rev. R. Morton Smith. The Rev. Arthur F. Gibson became Rector of St. Jude and the Nativity, and was succeeded at St. George's, Richmond, by Mr. Chris Wyld, a lay-reader, the sacraments being provided by the Rev. Lloyd Smith. Two missions of the Convocation, St. George's and St. Bartholomew's, are no longer receiving aid from the Convocation.

Grace Church and the Incarnation has changed its registered address from Broad and Jefferson Streets to Edgemont and Venango Streets, where it has absorbed the work of St. George's Mission, Venango.

The Rev. Thomas A. Meryweather has become Rector of the Church of the Advocate, and the Rev. Dallas E. Buzby is temporarily in charge of the work at the Church of the Covenant.

The meetings of the Convocation in 1946 were held at Christ Church and at St. James the Less.

WOMAN'S AUXILIARY TO THE CONVOCATION OF NORTH PHILADELPHIA

Another year has been added to the life and work of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Convocation of North Philadelphia and, in spite of the many extra demands made on the delegates, the three stated meetings were very well attended.

In April a Morning of Prayer and Meditation, beautifully conducted by Bishop Remington, was held at St. Matthew's Church and our guests of the afternoon were Bishop Harris of Liberia and Miss Marjorie Gammon of our own Diocese. Such a day is rare, indeed, and was of much spiritual value and benefit to us!

Our delegates are active in their own parish interests and willingly worked at the Episcopal Day for the Blind as well as at the May Fete of the Episcopal Hospital.

May I express my sincere gratitude for the privilege of service with you, thanking you for the confidence and cooperation. Very humbly I pledged devotion in prayer, service and sacrifice and asked God for guidance, strength and wisdom for our task together.

Respectfully submitted,
MARY P. HARRISON.

CONVOCATION OF NORRISTOWN

While the center of missionary work in the Convocation this past year has been at St. Philip-in-the-Fields, Oreland, yet there has been growth and real accomplishments in all of the other Mission Churches. In this period Holy Trinity Church, Lansdale, has assumed parish status and was admitted to full place in the life of the Diocese at the 1946 Convention in May. The Rev. M. M. Garcia, who had served so well as Vicar for some years past, was elected Rector of this new and flourishing parish.

Similar work has been done by the Vicar and people of the Chapel of the Advent, Hatboro, which congregation has assumed full financial responsibility and will shortly apply for parish status. This is a further demonstration of what can be accomplished where a faithful Pastor has the earnest co-operation of his people.

The progress of the work at Emmanuel, Quakertown, is not so rapid, but the growth is steady and worthwhile. At Epiphany, Royersford, where the work is carried on under the direction of the Rector of St. Peter's, Phoenixville, with priestly help on Sundays and increased pastoral care, there has resulted a considerable growth during this past year which augurs well for the future.

A new Vicar, the Rev. H. A. Hopkins, has been appointed for St. Anne's, Willow Grove, to succeed the Rev. P. A. Phipps. Here again is a wonderful opportunity for the Church's work to grow and develop into full parish stature. Trinity, Gulph Mills, has been without a Vicar for the past year, but service has been maintained for the group of faithful souls in this neighborhood. The mission does not give much promise of growth in the immediate future and Convocation is concerned with the problem as to whether it should be continued.

The Church building for St. Philip-in-the-Fields, Oreland, was sufficiently completed for the first service to be held on Christmas Day, 1946. This was conducted by Bishop Hart for a most enthusiastic congregation that filled the part used for Church purposes. The building is designed to give place for the Church, a hall for Guild House purposes and contains a six-room apartment for the Vicar and his family. The Rev. Joseph Tatnall assumed charge on January 1, 1947.

JAMES M. NIBLO,
Dean.

WOMAN'S AUXILIARY TO THE CONVOCATION OF NORRISTOWN

Our Fall meeting was held at St. Peter's, Weldon, October 24, 1946. The regular business meeting included interesting reports from the various Committees and missions.

The revised By-laws are to be presented at the Spring meeting. The sum of $500 was allocated to the new Mission of St. Philip-in-the-Fields, Oreland. No other mission requested financial aid.

Two splendid "Educational Days" were held in our Convocation under the leadership of Mrs. Edward Ingersoll—one at the Church of Our Saviour, Jenkintown, on March 11th; the other at All Saints, Norristown, March 25th.

There is strong evidence of a desire to "Go Forward in Service" throughout the Convocation.

ABIGAIL F. STUART,
President.

THE CONVOCATION OF WEST PHILADELPHIA

The Rectory purchased in 1945 for the Priest in charge of St. Monica's Mission was occupied in September. It was thoroughly renovated at a cost of $1,351 which was assumed by the Convocation. Father Davis had the house blessed in November and it is a property to be proud of. The mission property has been restored and is more efficiently arranged than previous to the fire. The mission is in a healthy condition.

The combined work of St. Titus and St. Cyprian has flourished under the care of Father Ziadie. It was an experiment and has proven its trial. St. Titus is a mission of white people and in the same area is St. Cyprian's, a Church of Negro people. In placing one Priest in charge of both missions there was a saving of manpower and, incidentally, of costs. Due to the movement of people, St. Titus Mission has to record a number of removals while St. Cyprian's shows a small increase.

It may appear that we are doing little more than marking time in this area but that does not mean that we are unconscious of the many elements which are combining to make the present work the foundation of great work in the future. We have learned that in the development of mission work in a great city, there is a time to be active and a time to be patient. At the present, no one can definitely foresee just what the best plans for any area may be.

For the splendid assistance rendered by the Woman's Auxiliary we are deeply grateful. We believe we are the only Convocation which has presented to the Divinity School a scholarship. This generous action is the expression of interest of the Woman's Auxiliary.

WOMAN'S AUXILIARY TO THE CONVOCATION OF WEST PHILADELPHIA

Mrs. George Lamb, Chairman

During 1946 three meetings were held by the Woman's Auxiliary. In January the Auxiliary met at the Church of the Holy Apostles and the Mediator, at which time Mrs. Jeffries was our guest speaker. In May we met at the Church of the Atonment, with Mrs. Remington as guest speaker. The October meeting was held at Calvary Church with Mrs. Packard as chief speaker, giving the highlights of the General Convention. All three of the meetings were well attended with excellent parish representation.

Devotional. The annual Quiet Day was held at the Church of the Holy Apostles, on February 12th, under the leadership of Father Wm. X Smith. Although this was the second day of the street car strike, the attendance was unusually good.

Social Service. This Department has been very active in collecting garments and money to be sent to New Windsor, Md. At Christmas money and garments were sent to the three missions and candy to their Church schools. Gifts were also sent to shut-ins, $65 was collected and distributed. Work with the E. P. M. League was represented by $91 and 340 packages and articles.

Finance. Money to carry on the work of the Woman's Auxiliary was obtained from dues, offerings, gifts from parishes and the proceeds from the two card parties held. The Treasurer reports $531.95 received, $306.30 paid out, leaving balance of $225.65.

Isabelle C. Hamill,
Secretary.

CONVOCATION OF CHESTER

The last mortgage on mission property in the Convocation of Chester has been liquidated. Thank God for that! Twenty-five years ago these mortgages amounted to $150,000. Thanks to the Woman's Auxiliary of the Convocation and their consecrated work during all these years in giving $2,000 each year, this amount being matched by a mission each year, made a total reduction of $100,000. In addition to this the missions themselves liquidated $50,000 more so that today there are no mortgages on the missions in the Convocation of Chester.

We are now free to promote and further our building program in the Convocation, and what an opportunity this is. St. Peter's, Broomall, broke ground on March 31, 1946. God willing, on March 30, 1947, we will have our first service with Bishop Hart at St. Peter's. There is still much to be done at St. Peter's. The men of the Convocation will present their offering at a service in St. Peter's in the Spring, which with the gift of $2,500 from the Woman's Auxiliary of the Convocation, should complete the payments of $37,500, the cost of building this first unit. When we started we thought $21,000 would be sufficient. Building costs have advanced very nearly 100% in the last three years.

Our next project will be a suitable church fabric for the Church of the Ascension, West Chester. Here again the men of the Convocation will be asked for a yearly offering to which will be added the gifts of the Woman's Auxiliary, the congregation, and offerings from the Negro congregations of the Diocese.

St. James Church, 22nd and Walnut Streets, has been sold and the Vestry, after careful consideration, decided to do pioneer missionary work in the Convocation of Chester at Green Ridge. There are about 800 houses in this area and a Methodist Church two miles away. For the time being Bishop Hart has appointed the Rev. Marshall Frye, Rector of St. John's, Concord, to be in charge of this work.

St. Alban's, Newtown Square, has purchased five acres of ground in the very center of that town, in the Pennsylvania Hospital development. A comprehensive plan for the whole scheme has been prepared by the architects and we hope to build in 1948 if building costs become at all reasonable.

We have been asked to explore the possibility of starting new parishes in several places in the Convocation. The Executive Committee will advise with Bishop Hart as to the future development that he wishes to undertake in this part of the Diocese.

There have been many changes in personnel in the Convocation. The Rev. Frederic Seymour, Vicar of St. George's, Ardmore, has retired, and the Rev. Stanley Wilcox of St. Paul's, Chester, has been appointed by Bishop Hart to succeed him.

The Rev. Peter C. Van der Heil of St. James', Downingtown, was elected by the Vestry of St. Paul's, Chester, to succeed Mr. Wilcox as of October 1st.

The Rev. Christopher Atkinson of Montrose, Pennsylvania, was elected by the Vestry of St. James', Downingtown, to succeed Mr. Van der Heil as of January 1, 1947.

The Rev. Albert Wilcox, Rector of Holy Comforter, Aronimink, accepted the appointment of Bishop Hart for St. Mary's, Warwick, and St. Mark's, Honey Brook.

The Rev. Richard H. Bailey, Rector of a church in Ocean City, New Jersey, was elected to succeed Mr. Wilcox at Aronimink as of November 1st.

The Rev. Frederick F. Valentine accepted a call for work in Kentucky and Bishop Hart appointed the Rev. Fred Hornby to be in charge of St. Peter's, Broomall, and St. Alban's, Newtown Square.

The Rev. Walter P. H. Parker has been appointed by Bishop Hart in charge of Ascension, West Chester, and St. Cyril's, Coatesville.

The Executive Committee of the Convocation has held monthly meetings through the Fall, Winter and Spring, and has been most helpful in planning for the growth and development of our missions. I am indeed grateful to them, and to the officers and members of the Woman's Auxiliary for their untiring efforts and their great helpfulness in the advancement of the work of the Church in this Convocation.

Dean.

WOMAN'S AUXILIARY TO THE CONVOCATION OF CHESTER

The Triennial Convention offered us many opportunities to become up-to-date on the Church's wide planning as well as inspiring us to increase our knowledge, thus inspiring us to broader activities abroad as well as in our own Convocation of Chester.

The year 1946 marked the end of a planned endeavor—that of helping to pay off mortgages—the last of these being the payment of $2,000 to Trinity, Collingdale, May 16, 1946.

The meeting was a preparatory meeting for the Triennial; the methods of procedure and the activities of the two governing bodies being clearly explained by Mrs. Robert Frazier.

The pressing need for helping to feed and clothe the distressed survivors in conquered countries moved the Auxiliary to accept voluntary donations sufficient to buy two heifers and send them where needed through the Church World Service Center at New Windsor, Maryland.

Our Fall meeting at St. John's, Lansdowne, was devoted to hearing a fine account of the Convention "highlights" by Mrs. Francis Packard and hearing an account of the Woman's United Thank Offering service and the splendid results.

The afternoon session was fortunate in having Mme. Tsu, wife of the Bishop of Shensi, China, picture the life of her countrywomen during and after the war.

The year 1947 is still young and bright and we bring to it high hopes for the realization of our aspirations. Our watchword this year is "Education and Evangelism." But how is that possible unless we see that there are adequate opportunities for it?

This Convocation of Chester covers 1,000 square miles, has over 380,000 inhabitants, but of that number only about 20,000 are Episcopalians. This very fact should spur us as Auxiliary women to support the Dean and advisers in the building program.

Do not forget that the Auxiliary, beginning this year, has pledged $2,500 yearly for land to further the building project.

With faith in your loyal endeavor and support in this phase of our Convocation, I am

Faithfully yours,

EMILY H. GAWTHROP,
President.

CONVOCATION OF GERMANTOWN

The year 1946 marked steady growth in most of the missions of the Convocation.

St. Paul's, Edgely, which was reopened under the leadership of a Lay Reader, Dr. Horace C. Prevost, has had a very happy year. With aid from the Diocese and the Woman's Auxiliary of the Convocation they have done much to improve their property. The people are showing a fine spirit of enthusiasm and we feel sure that there will be good growth in the future.

Trinity, Buckingham, under the leadership of the Rev. Roderic Pierce, has shown continued growth, as has the work at Trinity, Solebury.

Incarnation, Morrisville, is looking forward to the coming of the Rev. William T. Warren early in 1947. It is hoped that then there will be a change in the status of the Community House.

The house in which the Vicar of Ascension, Rhawnhurst, has been living was purchased by the Diocese as a Rectory for that mission.

St. James, Langhorne, is expecting to apply to the 1947 Convention of the Diocese for admission as a parish.

The Woman's Auxiliary to the Convocation has shown great interest in the work of the Convocation and done much to help it. I wish to express my thanks to them, and to the Clergy and laity for their loyal and interested support.

We look forward to 1947 as a time when we hope to do much in the Master's service.

N. Herbert Caley,
Dean.

WOMAN'S AUXILIARY TO THE CONVOCATION OF GERMANTOWN

Our first full year as Woman's Auxiliary instead of Woman's Aid brought us an expanded program, increased attendance and a good deal of satisfaction.

The Department of Missions, with Mrs. John T. Custis, Chairman, presented the Convocations "Suggested Missionary Guiding Principles," which gave the Auxiliary a new awareness of the problems facing the Convocation. First hand news of our missions was given to us by Dean Caley, Mr. Prevost of Edgely and Mr. Savage of Solebury. One definite result of our study of the "Guiding Principles" was a gift of $1,000 to the Bishop to be used for the increase of salaries and pensions for our Vicars. Other money gifts voted in 1946 include $300 for Dean Caley's car, $300 for the car of the Vicar at Morrisville, $70 for Summer conference scholarships and $50 for the House of Rest.

The Department of Christian Social Relations, with Mrs. Philemon F. Sturges, Chairman, kept the women up-to-date on Material Aid needs, and stimulated giving to the Reconstruction and Advance Fund and to the Presiding Bishop's Fund for World Relief.

The Department of Education, with Mrs. Charles Long, Chairman, besides conducting an Educational Day, when Dr. Irwin Underhill spoke on Africa, did much to make new literature available and to help parishes individually with their educational programs.

The Department of Promotion, with Mrs. John Slemons, Chairman, has been encouraging parish Auxiliaries to higher standards by an Honor Roll system—visits to parishes and missions and constant efforts to keep all women in touch with diocesan activities come under this Department's program. The Personnel Committee, with Mrs. John Weber, Chairman, is concerned with recruiting young women for Church work.

Our Annual Devotional Day was held in Lent and our Garden Party in June—in spite of a rainy day the Garden Party netted $941. Hearty thanks are due the delegates for their loyalty and support.

Lily Cheston,
Chairman.

APPENDIX I

Report of the Registrar

May 5, 1947

The canonical duties of the Registrar have been duly performed through the year, and the statistical records of the Diocese, viz: Episcopal Acts within the Diocese; list of clergymen canonically resident; and of all churches, chapels, or mission stations of the Diocese, with a description of their location and property, appear in their proper places in the Journal.

Numerous requests for certificates of Holy Baptism and of Marriages and Burials from the registers of closed parishes, and information of historical and biographical character have been complied with insofar as the records were available.

The following listed official books and papers were deposited with the Registrar and placed in the Church House vault:

St. Mary Pro-cathedral: Parish Registers
St. Timothy's Chapel: Parish Registers
St. John, Kelton: Charter, Deeds, 4 Treasurer's Account Books, 2 Vestry Minute Books, Minute Book of Epiphany Society, and Parish Register
St. John the Evangelist, Philadelphia: Charter
Corporation of Christian Work in Educational Institutions: Copy of Charter and By-laws

The attention of all offices of diocesan organizations and institutions is called to the importance of preserving the official books of record and documentary papers of these organizations. In case of dissolution the said books and papers should be transferred to the custody of the Registrar as soon as possible thereafter, and also in cases where an active organization has no suitable place of safe deposit.

Attention is also called to the growing spatial inadequacy of the Church House vault to accommodate the accumulation of matter deposited within it; and a recommendation is hereby made that the present contents of the vault be examined and evaluated by a proper authority to determine what may be removed therefrom to other places of sufficient security.

The Registrar further recommends that Canon III, Section IV, which defines the duties of his office, be revised to conform with the present practical administration of those duties.

Respectfully submitted,

HOWARD W. GERNAND,
Registrar.

APPENDIX J

Report of the Church Foundation

CONVENTION OF 1947

Since the last report to the Convention the Church Foundation has received approximately $131,000 in new funds, to wit, $108,000 from the Parish of Grace Church and the Incarnation, which has recently absorbed the Mission of St. George's, Venango; $13,500 from the Church Farm School, and $9,500 from St. Timothy's, Roxborough, to be added to some funds already in our care. The J. Vaughan Merrick Fund for Diocesan Missions of approximately $100,000 should come over this year. The total Book Value of securities and cash held in 100 separate funds amounted to $1,954,470 at the end of 1946. Of this amount a total of $1,565,154 is invested in Units of the Consolidated Investments Fund. Of the balance not invested in Units, $387,316, about 40%, is represented by mortgages in good condition and being amortized, and the rest is in securities which, for one reason or another, cannot be invested in units. Such are two small funds restricted to legals, and three others which are being accumulated and subject to withdrawal for purchase or construction purposes and which are invested in Government accumulating bonds. Trust funds which are entirely invested in Units bear an administration expense charge, at present, of only 6%, on income. Trust funds which are invested wholly or in part in securities other than Units are charged 8½% because of the greater expense of administration. As an illustration of the saving in expense effected by the Consolidated Fund it may be pointed out that whereas formerly, with twenty bonds of the same issue held in twelve different funds, there were 24 operations a year just to clip and route coupons, with the same twenty bonds in the Consolidated Fund only two such operations are necessary and only two subsequent book entries instead of twenty-four.

The Consolidated Investments Fund

When funds are held in trust by the Foundation without being specifically restricted in the manner of their investment they are invested as far as possible in the purchase of Units in the Consolidated Fund, and all such funds will be invested entirely in that way as soon as existing mortgages are paid off, all real estate held as investments having been sold. Every such trust fund, to the extent to which it owns Units in the Consolidated Fund, has a proportionate share in a fund approaching one and three-quarters millions, and invested in one hundred different ways, in bonds, and preferred and common stocks, which, as shown in the statement attached to this report, had a total market value as of March 5, 1947, of $49,972 in excess of cost.

In these days an assured and reasonably stable income of more than, or even as much as 3% on cost cannot be obtained by investing solely in high-grade bonds, and if recourse is had to investing in common stocks wide diversification is essential to warrant the risks involved. The possibility through the purchase of Units in our Consolidated Fund with its wide diversification and resulting better income, greater safety and stability of return gives the smallest funds in our care all the advantage enjoyed by the largest. The following figures speak for themselves. The original value of the Unit was $10; on March 5, 1944, the Unit value, based on the market values of the securities on that date was $10.38; on March 5, 1945, $10.97; on same date, 1946, $11.57 and this last March, $10.99. The earnings for the three months ending March 5th, of the same years, $.096, $.097, $.095 and $.105. The earnings for the whole year ending March 5th of this year were $.428 as compared with $.414 last year. The latter is a return of 3.80% on the average price of Units during the period, which was $11.24. After deducting an administration charge of 6% the net return to the beneficiaries on their investments in the Consolidated Fund was 3.57% on the average price of the Units during the year, but for many of the Funds whose units were mostly bought at lower prices the return was greater.

What the Church Foundation Can Do for Vestries

Where Vestries and other holders of funds have not been constituted technical Trustees of the same it should be clear from the above showing that, by placing such funds in trust with the Church Foundation, Vestries have a greater opportunity of obtaining safety of principal with a reasonable and stable income than can be duplicated in any other way except in the case of the very largest funds. And what is more, in the Church Foundation the smallest funds, if invested in the Consolidated Fund, have all the advantages of the largest one. Substantial uniformity of quarterly income distributions is due to the fact that accrued interest and dividends are paid each quarter to the beneficiaries and not just the amounts actually received by the Consolidated Fund. This is very satisfactory to Accounting Wardens.

Where Vestries and others hold funds under circumstances that constitute them Trustees of the same, they cannot put them in trust with the Church Foundation without consent of Court, but that is not a difficult or expensive proceeding and the courts will generally readily comply with a Vestry's request for such change. The only certain thing about Vestries is that the character and capacity of their successors to manage investments are completely uncertain!

Revocable Trusts

The Committee on Financial Safeguards has indicated to the Directors of the Church Foundation that there may be parishes which would be willing to entrust their endowment funds wholly, or in part, to the Church Foundation if they were allowed some power of revocation and of withdrawing their funds. The Directors have not formed any general policy in regard to such a departure from their practice and that of their predecessors, the Trustees of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Dioecse, but they have authorized their officers and proper committees to consider any such proposition that may be made to them. It is agreed that any such power to revoke trusts once placed with them cannot be an unlimited one but must, in the interest of all concerned, be sufficiently guarded to protect the purposes for which the funds have been given, and prevent such withdrawals interfering with the proper functioning of the Foundation's investment operations.

A Diocesan Real Estate Office

When the Convention, some sixty years ago, directed the formation of a Corporation to act as Trustee for Church properties and funds it probably assumed that about all such a corporation would have to do about properties would be to receive the deeds and file them away. But, to make a long story short, things have so developed that the Church Foundation Office has become the Real Estate Office in regard to all Diocesan and Mission Real Estate, and has the custody and supervision of various kinds of Insurance policies, and conducts all purchasing, selling and renting of such properties and contracting for the erection of buildings and payments therefor. This can be done more cheaply and more efficiently by the Church Foundation than by the Church House force because it is largely done through the expert facilities of the Provident Trust Co., the Fiscal Agent. Recognizing that the Church Foundation in this way performs a valuable service for the Diocese which it is not incumbent upon it to furnish, the Executive Council has placed on the budget the sum of $2,400 a year to be paid to the Church Foundation in return for this work. That has enabled the Directors to provide the Executive Vice-President for the first time with a Secretary, which it is hoped will make it possible for his office to give better service.

For the Directors,

F. C. Hartshorne,
Executive Vice-President.

Forward in Service Commission Report for 1946

The action of the National Church in reference to Forward in Service minimized any plans for 1946. However, the Commission continued to bring to the attention of the diocesan clergy certain phases of work especially in connection with Retreats and Quiet Days. As the leaders of the Episcopal Church are seeming to stress a more evangelistic note it will be possible to do more in this field if the clergy, as a whole, show a greater interest.

The Commission has cooperated with the Woman's Auxiliary and other diocesan agencies and appreciates their help. As usual, the Commission had a part in the annual Corporate Communion and Breakfast of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, on Washington's birthday.

The Annual Clergy Retreat was held in June, instead of in September, on account of the meeting of General Convention. The Chairman of the Commission was the Conductor. Thanks again are due to the Rector and Vestry of the Church of the Holy Trinity for allowing the use of Holiday House. The Chairman also held meditations in some parishes and conducted a Quiet Day at the Philadelphia Divinity School for the faculty and students.

The Annual Quiet Day for the clergy and the Annual Clergy Conference, originally planned and directed by the Commission, are now arranged by Bishop Hart.

Definite plans are being made to develop Retreats and Quiet Days. The Dean of the Divinity School, Dr. Gifford, has offered the facilities of the School for Week-end Retreats for the laity and the Chairman of the Commission hopes that Quiet Days will be held at St. Peter's Church in the Great Valley, of which he is Rector.

In order to finance such plans the Commission requests an appropriation, smaller than that given in 1947, and offers the following Resolution:

BE IT RESOLVED, That the Convention appropriate from the Convention-Diocesan Fund the sum of THREE HUNDRED DOLLARS ($300.00) for the work of the Commission, which now includes the Diocesan Retreat Association.

J. JARDEN GUENTHER,
Chairman.

APPENDIX L

Report of the Commission on Rectors' Salaries and Pensions

The Commission on Rectors' Salaries and Pensions has met regularly throughout the past year on the same day that the Executive Council met. Every application for grants from Parishes needing additional funds to adequately pay their Rector has been carefully and sympathetically studied by the members of the Commission and in every instance acceded to. It is a noteworthy fact that in the past four years the number of Aided Parishes has been reduced from twenty to twelve, and that several of this latter number have considerably reduced the amount asked for.

Every Parish and Mission is aware of the fact that the Church Pension Fund Commission has had to increase the annual rate of premium this year from 7½ percent to ten percent. This is an absolute necessity in order that adequate allowances for old age and disability be maintained. Dr. Hartshorne, Vice-Chairman of the Commission on Rectors' Salaries and Pensions, reports that he has secured almost complete cooperation in the payment of the Clergy Pension premiums, and thereby has safeguarded the payment of a thousand dollars to all widows of the deceased Clergy of the Diocese.

The Commission, in following the lead of the Executive Council in augmenting the salaries of all Vicars by three hundred dollars this year, have done likewise on behalf of Rectors of Aided Parishes. This was due to the high cost of living and minimum salaries were certainly insufficient to meet this condition. We therefore ask the Convention to ratify this action.

While the Commission finds the grants, Pension premiums and office expense come close to using up completely the $8,000 assessed by action of Convention last year, yet by reason of a balance maintained from several years past, the work of the Commission can be maintained with the same amount of $8,000 for the year 1948, and therefore recommends the following resolution:

RESOLVED, That the Commission on Rectors' Salaries and Pensions be authorized to assess for the work of the Commission for the year 1948 a sum not to exceed $10,000, and if possible to maintain the figure of $8,000.

ALSO BE IT RESOLVED, That the Convention ratify the action of the Commission in increasing the amount of each grant to include an extra $200 from the funds of the Commission and $100, to be given by the Aided Parish, that the salary of the Rectors of Aided Parishes be augmented $300 for 1947.

1. RESOLVED, That after January 1, 1947, the minimum salary of Rectors, Vicars and other Clergymen in the direct employ of the Diocese be fixed as follows:
   - A. At $2,100 (with Rectory or equivalent) for the first year that a Clergyman has been in Holy Orders.
   - B. At $2,400 (with Rectory or equivalent) for the Clergyman who has been in Holy Orders over one year.

4. Change amount from $1,300 to $1,600.

Respectfully submitted,

JAMES M. NIBLO,
Chairman.

APPENDIX M

Report of the Cathedral Chapter

Sunday Services have been regularly maintained at the Cathedral. These consist of a Celebration of the Holy Communion at nine o'clock, Morning Prayer and Sermon at eleven o'clock, conducted by one of the Lay Canons or Lay Readers, and Evening Prayer and Sermon at four o'clock in the afternoon, conducted by a Clergyman. It is hoped that this latter Service will again be the occasion for Congregations in the Diocese to come to the Cathedral on a pilgrimage, their Rector or Vicar conducting the Service.

There are at the present two special days, apart from Sundays, when the Cathedral is thronged with worshippers. On each Memorial Day, three American Legion Posts, along with others, attend the Cathedral Service to honor those who gave their lives in the First and Second World Wars. Again on All Saints' Day, the Congregation is made up of members from many Parishes in the Diocese. At an earlier Service on that day many departed souls who have passed into the other life during the year are remembered by name. On last All Saints' Day, there occurred also the Institution of the Suffragan Bishop of the Diocese. The Faculty and Students of the Divinity School have, for several years past, attended this Service and joined in the Procession.

It is a very great satisfaction to record the fact that the entire Cathedral site is now free of debt. The second mortgage has but recently been satisfied and the Diocese now possesses nearly forty acres of ground on the highest point in the City of Philadelphia. The time has surely come when we must add to the size of the Cathedral, completing the Choir and the Crossing, making possible a Church large enough to accommodate Congregations of Diocesan proportions. At the same time a Conventual Building must be erected to provide meeting rooms and sacristies. With the expansion of the City's plan to extend a new boulevard, the widening of Ridge Avenue, and erection of a bridge across the Schuylkill River, thereby bringing the Cathedral within a half hour's ride of nearly the entire Diocesan population, the site of the Cathedral will no longer be subject to criticism as to its location.

The Treasurer's report is appended hereto and will be printed in the JOURNAL.

JAMES M. NIBLO,
Registrar.

APPENDIX N

Report of Committee on Incorporation

(1) The Committee on Incorporation has considered the application of "Church of the Redeemer, Springfield," for its approval of their proposed Articles of Incorporation and their application presented to the Bishop for admission into union with the Convention of this Diocese.

The Committee finds that the proposed Articles of Incorporation are in substantial conformity with the approved form of Articles of Incorporation and that the Bishop and Standing Committee have approved the application for admission into union with the Convention of this Diocese. The Committee therefore offers the following resolutions:

RESOLVED, That the proposed Articles of Incorporation of "Church of the Redeemer, Springfield," be approved and that permission be given to apply to the proper court to grant the same;

AND BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That "Church of the Redeemer, Springfield," be admitted into union with this Convention and that its delegates be given seats therein, but without vote during this session.

(2) The Committee on Incorporation has considered the application of "St. James's Church, Langhorne," for its approval of their proposed Articles of Incorporation and their application presented to the Bishop for admission into union with the Convention of this Diocese.

The Committee finds that the proposed Articles of Incorporation are in substantial conformity with the approved form of Articles of Incorporation and that the Bishop and Standing Committee have approved the application for admission into union with the Convention of this Diocese. The Committee therefore offers the following resolutions:

RESOLVED, That the proposed Articles of Incorporation of "St. James's Church, Langhorne," be approved and that permission be given to apply to the proper court to grant the same.

AND BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That "St. James's Church, Langhorne," be admitted into union with this Convention and that its delegates be given seats therein, but without vote during this session.

RESPECTING AMENDMENT TO MODEL FORM OF ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION

The Committee on Incorporation recommends for approval by the Convention the following amendment to the model form of Articles of Incorporation:

Amend Article 7, Section 1, line 4, by deleting therefrom the word "male" so that as amended the sentence will read as follows:

> The Vestrymen shall be Baptized and Confirmed, Lay persons of the age of twenty-one years and upwards, a majority of whom shall be residents of Pennsylvania and members of the corporation.

* * * * * *

For the past several years it has been the practice of the Committee on Incorporation to recommend for approval and the Convention has approved Articles of Incorporation for new parishes which would permit women to serve on the Vestry. In some instances the organizers of new parishes have been most insistent that this be permitted and in some instances it would be a distinct handicap to a newly organized parish if this were not permitted. The proposal would simply bring the form of the model in line with the prevailing practice.

Respectfully submitted,

SANFORD D. BEECHER,
Chairman.

APPENDIX O

Report of the Committee on Canons to the Convention of 1947

No propositions to amend the Canons were received thirty or more days before the meeting of the Convention, and therefore no meeting of the Committee has been had, but shortly before the meeting several suggestions have come in which have been informally considered by the Committee and believed to have merit and are hereby submitted for the consideration of the Convention without definite recommendation or prejudice.

THE DUTIES OF THE REGISTRAR

Canon III, Sec. IV, must have been adopted a long while ago, as it sets forth as duties of the Registrar many duties which have not for long since been performed by him, but have been performed by the Secretary of the Convention or the Secretary of the Bishop or the Secretary of the Diocese. To do away with duplication of duties and to prevent the possibility of any misunderstandings it is proposed to regularize the long-standing practice in these matters by eliminating from the Canon listing the duties of the Registrar the ones he no longer performs. The Amendment, therefore, is:

"Amend Canon III, Sec. IV, by deleting from that Canon and Section the part of said section beginning with the words, 'It shall—,' on the sixth line thereof on page 31 of the 1945 Edition of the Canons, and ending with the words, 'of them—,' on the twenty-fifth line thereof."

CONVEYING PROPERTIES TO THE CHURCH FOUNDATION

Canon XII prohibits the conveying of any real property held by a parish or any official of the Diocese without the consent of the Bishop and the Standing Committee. This would, technically, require said consent in order that property might be conveyed in trust to the Church Foundation. As that was never the intention and there is no reason for requiring it, it is proposed to make an exception of such conveyances.

When the properties get into trust with the Church Foundation their sale by the Foundation would require the consent of the Bishop and the Standing Committee. The proposed Amendment is:

"Amend Canon XII, Sec. II, by inserting in the sixth line from the top of page 66 in the 1945 Edition of the Canons, and between 'ment' and 'and,' the words, 'or to conveyances in trust to the Church Foundation'."

Concerning Amendments to Charters

The Chairman of the Committee on Incorporation has proposed a change in the required procedure in the matter of accomplishing the amending of charters. According to present Canonical requirements the parish corporation at a meeting of the members must first approve of the proposed Amendment before it is presented to the Committee and by them reported to and acted upon by the Convention. This frequently results in embarrassing and sometimes irritating situations, as when the Committee finds it must recommend that the Convention do not approve of the Amendment, with the result that another meeting of the congregation has to be held and probably a year lost. What is proposed is that the Vestry shall submit the proposed Amendment to the Committee and that the congregation be called upon to vote on it after it has been approved by the Committee and the Convention. Then it goes to the Court. This seems a very desirable change. The proposition is:

"Amend Canon I, Sec. IV, Paragraph 2 so that it shall read:

"2. The application for approval of any proposed amendment or alteration shall be in writing, and signed by the authorized officers of the Church, and shall set forth the proposed amendment or alteration. The application shall be accompanied by duly authenticated copies of the Articles of Association, Charter or Articles of Incorporation, and all previous amendments or alterations thereof."

For the Committee,

APPENDIX Q

Report of the Commission on Music

MR. NEWELL ROBINSON, Chairman
MISS ROMA E. ANGEL, Secretary-Treasurer

The Commission on Music met and re-elected Mr. Newell Robinson as Chairman, and Miss Roma E. Angel as Secretary-Treasurer.

Much of the year's work was given over to the necessary arrangements for General Convention. The advance work was planned many months before—choir members contacted, music selected, sectional lists of churches made, Committees were appointed to take care of publicity, printing, services, lectures, recordings, and many other important items. Publishers responded with sample copies of service music and anthems, and hundreds of these were carefully gone over to determine value of music and text, before being recommended for general use.

Choirs were prepared by means of sectional rehearsals, conducted by Messrs. Robinson, Marshall, and Siddall, and so much interest was stimulated among the choirs of the Diocese, that it has been decided that this Convention Choir be retained for future work in the Diocese.

Messrs. Murphy and Willoughby gave their valuable assistance as organists for the services.

Excellent talks were given on the Hymnal, Chanting, and Music and Worship by Dr. Farlander, Messrs. Gilbert and Siddall, and the Rev. H. B. Satcher on several evenings during the Convention. It was a great piece of work and the Bishop expressed thanks to Mr. Robinson and his committees for their valuable assistance.

The Commission has published two booklets — one, The Hymnal 1940, is a reprint of a series of articles on the New Hymnal by Brother Sidney, O.H.C., these articles having appeared separately in the Holy Cross Magazine, and which the Commission thought worthy of so being brought to the attention of all those interested in the subject of Hymnology.

Complimentary copies of this pamphlet were sent to all the clergy of the Diocese, as a general aid in their work with the New Hymnal. The other is a reprinting of a List of Service Music and Anthems, arranged according to the seasons of the church year, and traded as to difficulty this list having been enlarged and brought up to date as far as possible. Response has been great from all sections of the country and requests have poured in for these booklets and all sorts of information, which has kept the Chairman and Secretary busy but gratified.

A talk was given by Mr. Robinson at a meeting of the American Guild of Organists on the ideals and general work of the Commission. Recordings were used to demonstrate choir work.

A list of hymns for use in the Church Schools is in preparation, and work is progressing in the much needed subject of music for weddings and funerals.

Talks will be given by two members of the Commission at one of the meetings of the Clerical Brotherhood.

Preparations are under way for a young people's Combined Festival by the Northern Convocation to be held in St. Mark's Church, Frankford.

Plans are being made for future conferences, Hymn Sings, Services, etc.

The Commission offers the following resolution:

RESOLVED, That the Commission on Music be continued, with power to fill vacancies and to add to its numbers.

Respectfully submitted,

ROMA E. ANGEL,
Secretary.

APPENDIX R

Committee on Relation Between Convention and Diocesan Institutions

At the last Diocesan Convention, we presented quite an extended report on our work during the year. Our task has grown in extent and importance during the year past on account of the responsibility of preparing the material about our various agencies and institutions from which the Survey Staff of the National Council could gather accurate data.

The latter part of December, the Rev. Messrs. Almon Pepper and Arnold Purdie came on to interview the Department of Christian Social Relations with reference to undertaking the survey provided by resolution of the last Diocesan Convention. Our Committee was asked to act with a similar one from the Department of Christian Social Relations constituting a Joint Committee to review the survey and make recommendations. The results of our work together with the Report of the Joint Committee and appended resolutions are now in print. Our chief activity during the year 1946 was in the preparation of the making of this report.

Respectfully submitted,

THE RT. REV. WILLIAM P. REMINGTON,
Chairman
THE REV. W. HAMILTON AULENBACH
THE REV. ARTHUR MURRAY
DR. J. HAROLD AUSTIN
MRS. JASPER NICOLLS
MR. I. SMITH RASPIN
MISS MARGATET C. MAULE.

APPENDIX S

Report of the Committee on Christian World Order

The report of this Committee has usually been included in the report of the Department of Christian Education; however, it has been felt this past year that the Committee should have a separate budget of its own and do its work under the chairmanship of the Suffragan Bishop. An Executive Committee was appointed as follows: Mr. Louis M. Washburn, Mr. Edward S. Morris, and the Rev. J. Wesley Twelves, and with the Rev. Lars R. Bache-Wiig serving as the Executive Secretary.

This group organized in the Fall and sent out notices of Area Meetings which were held in Christ Church and St. Michael's with Bishop Remington as Chairman and the speaker was Mr. Richard Wood, Executive Secretary, Philadelphia Friends' Peace Committee; St. Thomas', Whitemarsh, with Mr. Louis M. Washburn presiding and Mr. Roy McCorkel, Associate Secretary in Charge of Area Activities for American Friends Service Committee, was the speaker; St. John's, Lansdowne, with the Rev. Lars R. Bache-Wiig presiding and the speakers were Theodore Paullin, Ph.D., Professor of History at Swarthmore College, and Allen Olmsted, Esq., of Philadelphia and Media; The Church of the Holy Apostles and the Mediator, Philadelphia, with the Rev. Lars R. Bache-Wiig presiding and Mr. Philip Conard of New York in charge of Church Relations for the Foreign Section of Friends Service Committee as speaker; and St. Stephen's, Philadelphia, with Mr. Edward S. Morris presiding and Mr. Richard Wood, Executive Secretary of the Philadelphia Friends' Peace Committee and the Rev. Emerson Shidler of the Congregational Church as speakers.

These Area Meetings were intended to inspire parish group discussions. They were fairly well attended, but it was agreed that better publicity would get larger results. The Committee, therefore, planned Area Meetings on the all-important question of "Russia" and had posters printed advertising the meetings. It was agreed to ask Mr. Donald Harter, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Political Science at the University of Pennsylvania, to speak at the meeting in St. Stephen's Church. Miss Antonia Froendt, for twenty years Secretary for Inter-Church Aid in Europe, War Correspondent in Europe 1944-45, and now with the World Council Service, was also asked to speak on "Russia" at the Area Meeting at Christ Church and St. Michael's. Mr. Robert M. W. Kempner, General Counsel for Pre-Hitler German Police and Political Adviser to Justice Jackson at the Nuernburg Trials, was asked to speak at St. John's Church, Lansdowne; and Mr. John La Cerda, Foreign Correspondent, Philadelphia Evening Bulletin, recently returned from fourteen months' trip covering twenty-one countries including the Far East, was asked to speak at the Area Meeting at the Church of the Holy Apostles and the Mediator.

Your Committee has tried to keep these important matters before the Diocese and will continue to do so in planning for further meetings and activities after Easter.

Respectfully submitted,

THE RT. REV. WILLIAM P. REMINGTON,
Chairman
THE REV. LARS R. BACHE-WIIG
THE REV. J. WESLEY TWELVES
EDWARD S. MORRIS
LOUIS M. WASHBURN.

APPENDIX T

Report of the Committee on the Administrative Needs of the Diocese

The Committee on the Administrative Needs of the Diocese was appointed pursuant to Resolution of Diocesan Convention of 1945 (Jnl. 40). To Convention of 1946, the Committee reported that it had held one meeting, and asked to be continued, with leave to add to its membership, which was granted (Jnl. 34).

Mr. Joshua Ash Pearson, named as Convener, and then elected Chairman, resigned the chairmanship in November, 1946, but continued as a member. At the same time Dr. Thomas S. Gates, Mr. Francis J. Chesterman, and Mr. Spencer Ervin were added to the Committee. Mr. Chesterman was made Chairman and Mr. Ervin, Secretary.

The Committee met in November and December, 1946, and again in February and March, and twice in April, 1947. Bishop Hart attended all of the meetings but that of March, 1947, at which time the Committee had the advantage of the presence, by invitation, of Bishop Remington, the Deans of Convocation, the Chairman of the Department of Missions, and the Secretary of the Diocese.

Having informed itself to the best of its ability upon the present administrative arrangements of the Diocese, the Committee believes them capable of considerable improvement by relatively slight changes.

Fundamentally, the Committee recommends that chief reliance in carrying on the various operations of the Diocese shall be upon volunteers, both clerical and lay. It is believed that with more definite coordination of activities, and therefore a clearer assignment of responsibilities, it will be possible to bring into the work of the Diocese capable men who will give freely of their time and energies.

To this end the Committee now submits to the Convention, for its consideration, three proposals, with the suggestion that if the Convention approves the proposals in principle, it authorize one step now, leaving others, and the necessary changes in the canons, to the next Convention.

The three proposals are:

1. That the work of the Diocese be grouped under four main heads in four Departments: (1) Missions, (2) Social Service and Institutions; (3) Religious Education; (4) Property, Finance, and Promotion; each under a volunteer Chairman and with a volunteer board, as at present, but each with a full-time executive.

2. That the Executive Council be enlarged by ten additional members, chosen by Convention, and meet three times a year to hear and act upon reports by the Departments on the plans, policies, and activities of the Diocese.

3. That an Executive Committee, consisting of the Chairman and the full-time executive of each Department, meet regularly and frequently with the Bishop to report to him departmental plans and policies and enable him to review and integrate them.

These proposals continue the important function of the Deans in charge of the missionary activities of the Diocese in their respective Convocations, and the present valuable system of volunteer membership of Departments.

Further, these proposals do not in any way affect the work, activity, or responsibility of the Secretary of the Diocese and Chaplain to the Bishops, who should continue to report to the Bishop and Executive Council and will continue his oversight of the Church House and its personnel.

But, by enlarging the Executive Council and having it meet three times a year to review diocesan plans, policies, and activities, instead of as at present, and mainly concerned with the minutiae of administration, a larger number of able men will be attracted to give, and will be enabled to give their time to the improvement of the work of the Diocese.

Also, the creation of an Executive Committee, meeting regularly and frequently with the Bishop, will enable him to keep in touch with and integrate diocesan activities with a smaller expenditure of time and effort than at present, for he is now under the necessity, as a practical matter, of attending the regular meetings of the Departments and those of the Executive Council.

The appointment of a competent business man as full-time executive of the proposed Department of Property, Finance and Promotion will further relieve the Bishop and also the volunteer Chairman and members of that Department, and should make more readily possible the easy coordination of its various activities and, hence, a smoothly efficient operation.

We believe it should be possible to obtain such an executive. We have no one in mind, but it is a fact that able men are now being retired from business at an age which leaves them a considerable period in which they could benefit the Church by their experience.

The single step now proposed, if Convention shall approve the three proposals in principle, is to proceed to organize the present Departments of Finance, Property, Field and Publicity (later to be combined), with a full-time executive serving all.

If after hearing the Report of the Committee on the Relation between Convention and Diocesan Institutions this Convention should wish to reorganize the present Department of Christian Social Relations, this could be done within the framework of our report.

We have presented our plan in outline rather than in detail so that the Convention may the more easily pass upon the general principles involved without committing itself as to details. If this plan be adopted, the methods to be followed, for further coordination, will be developed as the result of actual experience.

We suggest the following Resolutions for adoption:

1. RESOLVED, That the three proposals in the Report of the Committee on the Administrative Needs of the Diocese be and they hereby are approved in principle.

2. RESOLVED, That the Committee be continued and authorized to submit to Convention of 1948 proposals for amendments to the canons to carry out in detail the proposals now submitted in outline.

3. RESOLVED, That the Bishop and Executive Council be authorized to obtain the services, without cost to the Diocese, or failing in that, at some nominal expenditure, of a full-time executive for the present Departments of Finance, Property, Field, and Publicity, jointly.

Respectfully submitted;

E. OSBORNE COATES
WILLIAM H. DUBARRY
THOMAS S. GATES
JOSHUA ASH PEARSON
REV. EDMUND B. WOOD

APPENDIX U

Report of Joint Committee

The Committee recommended by the 1945 Convention and appointed by the Bishop to consider the relation of Diocesan institutions with the Diocese and the Survey Committee of the Department of Christian Social Relations authorized by resolution of the 1946 Convention, both Committees acting as a Joint Committee under the Chairmanship of Bishop Remington, and with the approval of the Department of Christian Social Relations,

RESPECTFULLY REPORTS:

THE JOINT COMMITTEE FINDS:

1. There exists in the Diocese a large number of social welfare agencies (twenty-five in number) affiliated with the Diocese which are performing the social service obligation of the Church. These agencies function without a fully interrelated program between themselves and without unified Diocesan leadership.

2. The Diocese fails to perform its full responsibility in initiating and sponsoring social, educational, and community welfare study as outlined in the Survey. This field needs more administrative attention than can be expected of volunteer leadership.

3. This Diocese can ill afford to neglect either of these requisites of Diocesan life if it is to be mindful of its duty to advance the program of Christian social education and to promote co-operation between the agencies and institutions related to the Diocese.

The Joint Committee recommends the adoption of the following Resolutions:

1. RESOLVED, That this Convention receives with gratitude the Report of the "Survey of the Needs of the Diocese in the Field of Christian Social Relations" and conveys to the Rev. Messrs. Almon Pepper and Arnold Purdie our thanks for the efficient and constructive study made by the Survey Staff.

2. Be It Further Resolved, That the Bishop and the Executive Council be authorized to engage an Executive Secretary for the Department of Christian Social Relations, preferably a clergyman, but certainly with training and experience in Social Work, and that a budget for 1948 be provided for this enlarged program.

3. Be It Further Resolved, That this Convention assigns to the Department of Christian Social Relations and its Executive Secretary the responsibility for developing an integrated total program of social education and community welfare for the Diocese. Upon the invitation of any agency or institution related to the Diocese, the Department shall work out by conference with official representatives of the Diocese and of that institution or agency a clarification of existing relationships with a view to their mutual benefit.

4. Be It Further Resolved, That the newly organized Department of Christian Social Relations and its Executive Secretary shall be responsible to the Bishop and the Executive Council for the field of activities and for the development, promotion, and execution of its program.

5. Be It Further Resolved, That it is the conclusion of this Convention that any revision of Canons clarifying our program of Christian Social Relations and the relation of institutions to our Diocesan Convention be deferred until further study can be made by persons professionally competent to deal with the problems involved.

Wm. P. Remington,
Chairman,
Leonard B. Rasmusson,
Secretary.

APPENDIX V

Report of the Special Committee on Relation of the Convention to the Diocese

Your Committee was appointed under a resolution of the Convention of 1938 to consider the question of proportionate representation in the Convention which had been discussed as far back as 1913. It made a report to the Convention of 1939, outlining the reports it had received from some other dioceses, and recommended a constitutional amendment, which had to be voted on by two Conventions, and provided: "The Convention may from time to time provide by canon for the election in the same way of additional deputies not exceeding two in number from any parish, in such relation and proportion to the size or strength of the parish, including its chapel congregations, as said canon may determine. But any canon providing for such additional deputies or changing such provision shall not take effect until after the adjournment of the session at which it was adopted." This carried the matter along through the Convention of 1941, and in the meantime gave the Committee an opportunity to write to every diocese in continental United States. The reports from these showed that about two-fifths of the dioceses had some kind of proportionate representation in their conventions, and those who had it, liked it. No objection to the proposal was made in the two Conventions that amended the Constitution, although as the provision was merely an enabling one, and left future Conventions free to accept or reject the idea in toto, there was nothing to evoke opposition.

The Committee in 1942, after the change in the Constitution, was directed to submit a canon involving a suggested basis for such proportionate representation, and this was done, but when 1943 came around the country was in the midst of war, and the men that were away included some whom it was hoped that their parish would send as additional delegates if the way was opened for additional representation; so the matter went over by request at two Conventions. Now that the war is over, it is appropriate for the Convention to take this up and debate it.

The chief question that the Committee discussed was the basis of representation. The difficulty in taking reports of "communicants" made by the various parishes and printed in the JOURNAL (which is the only basis of information now available) lies in the fact that there is no universally recognized definition of "communicants," and until there is such, it seems that the fairest basis for any increased representation would be the number of those legally entitled to vote for vestrymen at the annual parish meeting. In the intervening years, the chapels had by canon been permitted to send a delegate to the Convention, but such delegate has no vote, and any church which sent any one from a chapel as one of its delegation, would by such choice qualify its delegate to vote. Your Committee is strongly of opinion that the proposed plan of enlarging the delegations of the larger parishes will be helpful, and will bring into the Convention some of the men who are not now delegates without displacing any present delegate; and to allay the fears of any who are afraid of the larger congregations exercising by their numbers a disproportionate influence, the Committee has repeatedly pointed out that the right to demand a vote by Orders is not affected in any way, and that on such vote by Orders the laymen from any parish would continue to have one vote only.

Full information on which to base the recommended right to additional representation is not yet available, and the figures that are given in the proposed canon must be regarded as more or less tentative until we get the information that will show how many parishes will qualify for larger delegations. Speaking broadly, it is not anticipated that the size of the Convention would be increased by more than 6 percent at the outside, and probably by less than that number, and subsequent Conventions, after the system is in operation, can increase or decrease the limits which are suggested in the proposed canon to effectuate the matter which the Committee submits, and which is as follows:

PROPOSED NEW SECTION V IN CANON II

Providing for Additional Deputies

SEC. V. Any Parish whose Warden or other officer shall certify to the Secretary of the Convention before the meeting of each Annual Convention that, according to his books or other Parish records, there are, at that time in the Parish more than 400 members who, under the provisions of its Charter or By-Laws, are entitled to vote at annual meetings of the Congregation, may send to the Diocesan Convention of 1948 and thereafter, one additional Deputy, making four in all, and any Parish similarly certifying to more than 600 such members may send two additional Deputies, making five in all, in both cases such Deputies to be chosen and certified to as above provided in Section IV hereof.

After action by the Convention, pro or con the proposed Canon, the Committee will ask to be discharged.

He shall be eligible as Bishop or Bishop Coadjutor or Suffragan Bishop of a Diocese or he may be elected by the House of Bishops, as a Missionary Bishop."

(b) Re-number the present Section 7 as Section 8.

APPENDIX X

A Survey and Study of the Christian Social Relations Program of the Diocese of Pennsylvania

INTRODUCTION

The Purpose of the Study. The Diocese of Pennsylvania adopted the following resolution at its 1946 Convention:

"Be it resolved, that the Diocese of Pennsylvania, in convention assembled on Tuesday, May 7, 1946, authorizes the Department of Christian Social Relations of the Diocese to have a competent survey made of the needs of the Diocese in the field of Christian social relations, at a cost not to exceed $1,000, the report to be received and considered by the Convention in May 1947."

This resolution was presented as part of the report of the diocesan Department of Christian Social Relations which for several years has wished to strengthen its program so that better leadership might be given to the total Christian social relations program of the diocese.

The Background of the Study. In the field of social education and community welfare the Diocese of Pennsylvania has from time to time developed important projects. In many quarters of the diocese, however, there has been concern about the rather sporadic nature of some of these activities and an expressed desire that the diocese should develop a strong and consistent program comparable to those of its peers among the dioceses of the Church.

Within the Diocese of Pennsylvania are twenty institutions and agencies rendering twenty-five distinct services which believe themselves to be somehow related to the diocese and are thought to be so related by others in the Church and the general community. In the case of most of the agencies, however, this relationship is not clearly defined or is defined by their own constitution and bylaws but with no reciprocal definition of relationship by the diocese. At various times attempts have been made to regularize these relationships and in 1944 the Diocesan Convention adopted Canon XVI, "Of Business Methods in Church Affairs," Section II, "In Organizations Other Than Parishes and Church Congregations"; and Canon XVIII, Section I, "Of Diocesan Institutions." These canons define what is necessary if an agency wishes to be recognized as diocesan, and the business methods pertaining to it, and they have been implemented by the establishment of a Committee on Relation Between Convention and Diocesan Institutions which has just been reorganized under the chairmanship of the Suffragan Bishop.

The resolution providing for this present study was authorized by the Convention of the diocese as a step in determining the needs of the diocese in these two fields of Christian social relations.

The Organization of the Study. In December 1946, the diocesan Department of Christian Social Relations arranged with the National Council Division of Christian Social Relations to have its staff make the study. The Study Committee of the department in Pennsylvania met twice with the staff members of the National Council to approve the methods and content of the study and the nature of the report to be made. Bishop Remington met with this committee and reported that, as chairman of the diocesan Committee on Relation Between Convention and Diocesan Institutions, he had been visiting the agencies and gathering certain factual material about their programs and purposes. It was decided that on the basis of a revised outline of information Bishop Remington should secure the factual material about the institutions and agencies necessary for the study and that for the continuing purposes of the study a joint committee should be arranged by combining the personnel of the Department Study Committee and of the Committee on Relation Between Convention and Diocesan Institutions.

These two groups then met together with the survey staff and constituted themselves as a Joint Committee on Study of Christian Social Relations Program in the Diocese of Pennsylvania. On recommendation of Bishop Hart the joint committee elected Bishop Remington as its chairman. At this first meeting of the joint committee the surveyors again presented their plans for the study, which were approved.

The joint committee also named six consultants for the study, two of whom were able to serve. Subsequently, the joint committee held three afternoon meetings and one evening meeting with the surveyors. At these meetings the factual material gathered by the surveyors was presented, analyzed and discussed, and at the final meeting, the surveyors made a verbal report of their summary findings and recommendations.

Scope and Content of the Study. From the beginning it was agreed that this study should cover the usual two main lines of activities contained in the Christian social relations programs of dioceses comparable to the Diocese of Pennsylvania. These are generally agreed to be the programs of (1) Christian social education and responsibility in relation to such welfare problems as race relations, delinquency, industrial relations, world order, and the family, and (2) the program of organized social services, represented by such agencies as hospitals, homes for the aged, child welfare, and City Missions, under the auspices of the Church.

On the basis of this plan the present study includes the social relations content of the various departments and commissions of the diocese, the Woman's Auxiliary, and the parishes; and the activities and relationships of the social service institutions and agencies which are in any way related to the diocese. It was further agreed that as far as the institutions and agencies are concerned, emphasis was to be given to their relationships to the diocese and to each other, and in no sense was this a study of their detailed programs in any attempt to evaluate them or to make recommendations about them.

Method of the Study. To accomplish the purposes of the study it was agreed that the following method should be employed: the various departments and commissions of the diocese would be asked to submit reports of their past activities and future plans, and subsequently they would be interviewed by the surveyors. The institutions and agencies would be asked to assist Bishop Remington in securing the factual material outlined in a questionnaire and would be visited for further consultations by the survey staff. The cooperation given by all the diocesan departments, commissions, institutions and agencies, is an indication of their loyalty to the Diocese of Pennsylvania and their interest in the purposes and needs of the study.

These reports, questionnaires, and visitation materials were correlated by the surveyors and analyzed by them. In addition to these local studies the National Council division gathered factual material of programs of Christian social relations in the Dioceses of New York, Long Island, Washington, Massachusetts, and Michigan and met with the chairman and executive secretaries of the departments in these dioceses for up-to-date discussion of their developing programs. On the basis of this total study and analysis the surveyors presented a verbal summary of their findings and recommendations to a meeting of the joint committee and were authorized to prepare a written report.

CHRISTIAN SOCIAL RELATIONS IN THE DIOCESE OF PENNSYLVANIA

The study of the Christian social relations program in the Diocese of Pennsylvania shows the same two main lines of activity which are evident in the programs of such dioceses as New York, Long Island, Washington, Massachusetts, and Michigan. These two broad lines of activity can be defined as those of Christian social education and responsibility, and of organized institutions and agencies related to the Church. While these two lines of activity can be defined and described separately, they have vitally important interrelationships, and should always be considered as parts of the total program of Christian social relations. The major responsibility for a diocesan program of Christian social relations is normally placed in the Department of the Executive Council. This is true in Pennsylvania, but it should be noted that the Woman's Auxiliary of the diocese has a strong program of Christian social relations, that there is a Commission on World Order, and that some of the parish churches have active committees and programs.

Because the program of the department is central, it is that program and its potentialities which is under examination in this study.

Social Education and Community Welfare

Historical Background. While outstanding Churchmen and some few parishes of the Church early showed an interest in the social responsibilities of the individual Christian and of the Church, the first real recognition of this responsibility by the corporate Church was shown in 1900 when the General Convention adopted resolutions on the relationships between capital and labor and appointed a Joint Commission of the Convention to give further thought to this subject. Shortly afterwards commissions on capital and labor developed in about twelve dioceses of the Church, among which Pennsylvania organized one of the first and strongest. These diocesan commissions included outstanding men and women of the Church and exerted an important influence on General Convention where their reports were given wide attention. Gradually, the diocesan commissions concerned themselves about other matters of social welfare and became known as Commissions on Social Service.

It should be noted that during this first quarter of the century several unofficial associations of Churchmen joined together to express their interest in industry and other welfare problems. Among these were such associations as the Church Association for the Advancement of the Interests of Labor, the Christian Social Union, the Companions of the Holy Cross, and later, the Church League for Industrial Democracy.

This whole movement for social concern on the part of the Church was given important fresh impetus in 1920 when General Convention established the National Council and designated one of its departments as the Department of Christian Social Service. An executive secretary was secured for this national department and almost immediately he added secretaries for field work with institutions and agencies and a consultant on industrial relations. The executive himself carried the responsibility for other aspects of social education and action. Following the example of the National Council, most of the dioceses of the Church organized Diocesan Councils or executive bodies with Departments of Social Service.

The Department of Christian Social Relations in Pennsylvania, because of its earlier Commission on Social Service, continued to be one of the important leaders in the whole movement. Pennsylvania has had the good fortune to secure interested and capable volunteer leadership for its department, and this perhaps is partial explanation why it has never employed executive secretarial service, as has been true of most of the other large dioceses of the Church. One of the results of this was that the Diocesan Journal of 1944 contains no report from the Department of Christian Social Relations for the apparent reason that there were no meetings or activities of the department in the previous year.

The Present Program of the Department of Christian Social Relations in the Diocese of Pennsylvania. At the present time the Department of Christian Social Relations operates with the volunteer leadership of a parish priest and with a large membership of 45 representatives of the clergy and laity of the diocese. It meets regularly for luncheon once a month. Its present budget is $1,000, which includes contributions to cooperating agencies.

A summary of the Department's 1946 annual report shows the following committees and activities:

a. Mental Health. Wrote to all clergy about National Mental Health Foundation and the service it offers to parishes. A one month's course for the clergy was presented at the Philadelphia Divinity School on Modern Developments of Psychiatry.

b. Interracial Committee. Promoted the observance of Race Relations Sunday and Brotherhood Week throughout the Diocese.

c. Cooperation with Social Agencies. Organized a Corporate Communion and breakfast for Episcopal social workers.

d. The department cooperated with the Material Aid program of the Woman's Auxiliary, heard an address on public housing, and issued a directory of Episcopal Social Agencies for visitors to General Convention.

e. Publicity. Regular releases from the department were sent to the daily press, the Church papers, and to Diocesan Church News.

f. Study Committee. Secured the services of the National Division of Christian Social Relations for a study of the Christian Social Relations' needs of the Diocese.

g. The chairman of the department in the Diocese of Pennsylvania was elected chairman of the Central Committee representing the five dioceses of Pennsylvania. This Central Committee will meet regularly while the State Legislature is in session.

The Department's own definition of its program and responsibilities. This definition was drafted in 1944, presented to the Executive Council of the Diocese and received by them. The statement follows and is worthy of note in an evaluation of the department's program.

STATEMENT OF POLICY AND PURPOSES DEPARTMENT OF CHRISTIAN SOCIAL RELATIONS, DIOCESE OF PENNSYLVANIA

The purpose of this department is to promote the Christian way of life in the social relations of today. This will be done by assisting the parishes and missions of the diocese in preparing themselves, so that the Church shall in the future be better able to lead in the changing days that are ahead.

At a time when the philosophy of social relations may be determined by groups with selfish intentions, by non-Christian social scientists or by the experience of a world at war, there is the utmost need for a clear statement as to the Christian philosophy of social relations.

The Church has a six-fold purpose: to reveal divine power and truth, to teach and to strengthen the faithful that they may be instruments in the establishment of His Kingdom, to convert the wayward by the power of God, to combat evil in the name of God, to work in His name for the physical welfare of humanity, and to establish a Christian brotherhood regardless of race or creed.

With these purposes of the Church in mind, the department believes that it has a double duty: (1) on behalf of the Bishop and the Executive Council, to develop programs of study and action in social relations and to promote these among the parishes and missions; and (2) to be a source of information as to facts and methods which may be called upon by the parishes.

To this end therefore the department will endeavor to be in a position to provide the following services:

1. Information concerning sociological data affecting the diocesan area.

2. Information as to secular and Church agencies and institutions.

3. To develop and promote parish programs in the field of social relations.

4. To take an active interest in legislation and in the administration of laws affecting social relations particularly in the field of youth welfare, the family, labor, and race relations.

5. To assist in community programs for postwar planning, supplementing the work of the Diocesan Committee to Study and Promote World Order.

6. To develop and promote parish programs affecting race relations, supplementing the 1944-1945 program of the Diocesan Forward in Service Commission.

7. To make public through the Church News or by newsletters, changing trends in social relations.

Some Comparisions with the Programs of Department of Christian Social Relations in other Dioceses. For the purposes of this study, informational material about the Department of Christian Social Relations in the Dioceses of New York, Long Island, Washington, Massachusetts, and Michigan was secured in reference to their canonical definitions of responsibility, their staffs, their programs, and their budgets. In addition to this information the chairmen and executive secretaries of these departments were called together for discussion of their present programs, their plans for the future, and their concepts of what a program of Christian social relations should be. Summary reports of this information about each of these diocesan departments are contained in the Appendix of this report.

Comparisons are not easy because each diocesan department has developed its program in relation to the total situation in its own diocese. The surveyors and the Joint Study Committee gave detailed study to the programs of the several diocesan departments and believe that the following comparisions can be substantiated:

a. Definition of Program. For three of the diocesan departments the canons of their diocese provide detailed descriptions of the responsibilities with which they are charged. Two of them have briefer canonical statements of their programs. In the Diocese of Pennsylvania there is no canonical definition of responsibility in any of the departments, but in 1944, the Department of Christian Social Relations' own statement of its policies and purposes was presented to the Executive Council and received by them.

The defined programs of the departments in the field of social education and community welfare are much the same.

b. Participation in Program. The departments in the other dioceses have been able to secure wider participation of the clergy and laity of their dioceses, due to the fact that they have a large number of active committees; they have organized more conferences and seminars; the interests of the department have been presented in more frequent sermons and addresses, and there have been more frequent parish contacts.

c. Continuity and Intensiveness of Program. Committee action is necessary for making decisions and for developing policies and defining programs, but volunteer service cannot provide for the continuity and intensive work which is needed for developing a real program. Pennsylvania has done an exceptional job compared with some dioceses of the Church, but its program lacks the substance and reality which can only be secured through staff.

d. Impact on the Community and the Church. It is inevitable that departments which can have a wider content in their program, which can enlist wider participation of clergy and laity of the diocese, and which can have more continuity and intensive attention in the program should be able to make a greater impact on the Church and the community. The reports of the other diocesan departments show evidence that they have been able to exert a larger influence than has the department of the Diocese of Pennsylvania.

e. Staff. The Department of Christian Social Relations in the Dioceses of New York, Long Island, Washington, Massachusetts, and Michigan all have at least one full-time staff member giving leadership and providing continuity to their programs. With the exception of New York all have additional administrative or special project responsibilities and therefore have additional staff members.

Evidence of Interest in Christian Social Education in National Bodies. Since 1900, when General Convention gave its first evidence of any awareness of its social responsibility, the Church has come a long way. In recent years both in England and in this country the leaders of the Church and the average Churchman have realized that such human relationships as those in industry, between races, and all other aspects of human and community relationships are important factors in the development of the social, religious, and spiritual lives of men and nations. St. Paul's admonition to "redeem the times" has taken on new significance and increasingly Christians are concerning themselves about an intelligent and Christian approach to social problems of the day.

Evidence that our Church recognizes a present responsibility for social education and community welfare is seen in the resolutions adopted at General Convention in Philadelphia, September 1946, on such subjects as Lasting Peace, Labor and Social Relations, The United Nations and Stable World Order; World Relief, Stateless Persons, and Preparation for Holy Matrimony. The national Executive Board of the Woman's Auxiliary has adopted a resolution stating that "one part of the function of diocesan officers or committees of Christian Social Relations should be to stimulate interest among woman of the Church in accepting their Christian duty as citizens," and urging upon all Churchwomen the importance of:

"Exercising the basic duty and privilege of the franchise.

"Studying and acting as individual voters on legislation concerning world order, status of minority groups, and in such fields as health, education and welfare, marriage laws, and conditions of work for women and children.

"Supporting adequate provision for enforcing existing legislation.

"Participating in the work of local community councils and welfare agencies."

Other evidences of the current interest are shown in the fact that the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, representing the interests of its constituent bodies, has set up conferences on such subjects as Race Relations, The Church and Economic Life, and The Church and World Order. The General Convention of the Episcopal Church continued its Joint Commission on Social Reconstruction and increased its budget so that it could organize regional conferences on social questions.

If the Episcopal Church is to carry its fully responsibility to its own members and in the world community, it needs the important and strong leadership of the Diocese of Pennsylvania in this field that it gives so readily in other fields of the Church's work.

Social Agencies of the Diocese

Historical Background. In the latter part of the 18th century a few institutions for the care of children and for general medical care were established by individuals and associations of Church people. The 19th century produced a great increase of this interest and many of the approximately 250 institutions and agencies at present related to the Church were founded during this period.

Some parishes and a few dioceses initiated various types of work but most of these agencies were established by endowment and the continuing gifts of individuals and associations. As was the custom of the time, these agencies were incorporated under the secular laws of the State and in many cases their constitutions and bylaws provided that the Bishop of the Diocese should be an officer and that members of the board of trustees should be members of the Episcopal Church. In most cases no further reciprocal statement of relation or responsibility to the Church was sought or established.

In addition to hospitals and homes for the care of children and the aged, other agencies were developed such as City Missions to provide the ministry of the Church to inmates of public hospitals, prisons and alms houses; settlements in crowded areas of the foreign born; shelters for homeless men and women; and seamen's work. More recently, case work services have developed for youth and family problems.

Over the years these agencies have been the beneficiaries of additional bequests from Churchmen and in many cases they have received appropriations from the diocesan budget and made their appeals to parish Churches. Since the development of Community Funds some of these agencies have received part of their operating costs from that source, and more of them have related themselves to the developing community program of services by affiliating with the Welfare Councils.

In recent years the whole question of relationships and financial support of these agencies has been raised and shows itself with special emphasis in the Diocese of Pennsylvania which has more institutions and agencies in some way related to it than any other diocese of the Church. In 1944 canonical provision was made in an attempt to define the relationship of institutions and agencies to the diocese and the Committee on Relations Between Convention and Diocesan Institutions was set up. This committee is currently part of the Joint Study Committee making this survey.

Facts About the Social Agencies Related to the Diocese of Pennsylvania. At the present time there are twenty agencies with some relationship to the Diocese. Two of the agencies operate separate departments or institutions so that the total of agencies and departments is twenty-five, as follows:

Burd School for Girls
Christ Church Hospital
Church Farm School
Coles House
Episcopal Hospital
George L. Harrison Home for Incurables
Galilee Mission
Girls' Service Bureau (Church Mission of Help)

House of the Holy Child and House of St. Machael and All Angels
House of Rest for the Aged
Keene Home
Leamy Home
Philadelphia Protestant Episcopal City Mission
  All Saints Hospital for Treatment of Tuberculosis
  Chaplaincy and Blind Work
  Children's Foster Home Placement
  Family Service Department
  James C. Smith Memorial Home
St. Agnes House
St. Anna's Home
St. John's Settlement House
St. Martha's House and Church Dispensary of Southwark
Seamen's Church Institute of Philadelphia Sheltering Arms

a. Major Types of Service. Although some of the agencies offer a variety of services, the major services of the twenty-five agencies and departments of agencies are:

Child Care		Health	6
Institutional Care	3	Shelter for Homeless	1
Foster Home Care	2	Seamen's Work	1
Family Service	1	Residence for Women	1
Group Work (Settlements)	3	Service to the Blind	1
Care of the Aged	6	Chaplaincy Service	1
Case Work for Youth	2
(both also have residences)

It should be noted that practically every type of modern social work is represented among these services.

b. Limitations on Groups Served. The charters of some of the agencies define certain limitations of service. Some others have confined their services to certain groups or geographical areas as part of the planned program of the Council of Social Agencies. Some agencies have no restrictions on the persons served. The following figures are based upon twenty-five agencies and departments of agencies:

Episcopal Church members anywhere	2
Episcopal Church members in Diocese of Pennsylvania	1
Any residents of Diocesan area	9
Any residents of Philadelphia or some part of it	3
No Church or geographical restriction	10

Racial limitations are defined in several ways and cut across the other limitations. For the twenty-five agencies and departments of agencies the limitations are:

None	11
White Only	13
by custom	5
by community plan	1
by Will, Charter or By-law	7
Negro only (by Charter)	1

c. Source of Income. Most of the agencies receive their operating budget from several sources. These sources for all of the twenty-five agencies and departments of agencies are the following:

Endowments	23
Diocesan Budget	6

Community Chest	12
Regular appeals to parishes	2
Individual contributors	18
Service Fees (from Individuals and other agencies)	19

Because of the inadequacy of some of the available information, exact figures of endowment and income cannot be given, but on the basis of reports from most of the following total figures covering all of the agencies can be listed:

Total Capital Funds—Approx.	$11,500,000.00
Total Property Value—Approx.	5,000,000.00
Total Annual Operating Budgets	4,207,950.00
Total from Diocesan Budget (6 agencies)	64,659.05
Total from Community Chest (12 agencies)	239,782.89

Observations and Questions Raised by the Factual Material About the Social Agencies. Careful consideration of the diversified programs of the agencies, their variations of relationships to the diocese, and their potential relationships to each other and to the community, point up certain observations and questions. These can be listed under the following headings:

a. Organizational Relationships. Most of the present relationships of the agencies to the diocese are unilateral in the sense that the relationship is stated in their constitution and bylaws, but there is no reciprocal statement in the canons of the diocese.

No mutual responsibilities, obligations, benefits or services are defined in the present relationships. This is true even in the one case where canonical relationship to the diocese has been established.

Do the social, economic, community organizational and ecclesiastical circumstances of the present time suggest reasons why the organizational relationships of the agencies to the diocese should be changed?

Why has the present Canon on Institutions and Agencies not been used? Should it be changed in some ways?

b. Financial Relationships. Are the present budgetary, special collection, or appeal provisions granted to some agencies based upon an objective study of their needs?

If new agencies under Church auspices were needed, how could the diocese finance them?

If capital improvements are needed by one or more agencies what help would the diocese give them? Should such needs be anticipated, coordinated, and scheduled?

If someone is contemplating a bequest to a Church agency, where could he get an objective opinion of relative need?

What responsibility should the diocese assume in relationship to deficits incurred by agencies not clearly related to the diocese.

c. Functional Relationships. In the past "Church" agencies came into existence through the special interest of some individual or group, not always with consideration for any total strategy or need. Should some overall plan be projected for present and possible future agencies?

Such plans should be related to the overall community needs and plans. How could the plans of the diocese be correlated with the plans of the general community?

Are all the Church agencies offering standards of service worthy of the Church?

Are there duplications or overlappings? Should some agencies merge or coordinate their programs? Are there unmet needs?

How can the diocese prevent the development of new sub-standard agencies to be established in the name of the Church?

d. Some Basic Questions. Are some types of services more properly and naturally services for the Church to sponsor and support than others?

Are there definable characteristics of relationships, services, and functions which Church agencies should have?

In these days when the general community is providing more of the social services, should the Church define more carefully what services it should develope and support—services which the general community cannot provide? For example:

i. Expansion of present chaplaincy services for hospitals, prisons, social agencies, and general religious counseling.

ii. Establishment of Mission Churches in new housing areas, among minority peoples, and in suburban areas.

iii. Specialized ministry to organized groups—labor, management, the professions, etc.

iv. Improved recreational and education programs in connection with Missions and Churches in deprived areas.

v. More adequate supplementary care for its own aged, delinquent, and otherwise handicapped members; pre-marital and post-marital counseling; and other specialized aspects of pastorial care.

The Relationship of the Institutions and Agencies to the Diocese. Most important of all the above questions is the one of relationship of the agencies to the diocese. Unless some mutually recognized relationship is established, there is no reason why the diocese as such should concern itself about any aspects of the agencies' programs. More importantly, unless some preliminary working relationship can be established, there is no basis upon which future relationship can be mutually determined.

The diocese is confronted with the alternatives of allowing the present confused situation to drift, of establishing arbitrary canons on a unilateral basis, or of developing a process through which the diocese and the agencies can explore the situation together and work out mutually acceptable relationships.

The summary of chart, Page XVI in the Appendix, shows that the twenty social service agencies in the diocese are related to the diocese in the following manner:

By canon of the diocese and with reciprocal provisions in its own Charter	1
By organic relationship to a parish Church	2
By Charter or bylaws of the agency the Bishop holds board office	14
By Charter or bylaws of the agency the Trustees must be members of the Episcopal Church	10

From this summary chart it is evident that only one of the agencies (the City Mission) is directly and organically related to the diocese, and that two agencies (Burd School and Christ Church Hospital) are indirectly related by their legal affiliation with parishes of the diocese.

Canon XVIII, Section II, "Of the City Mission" (1919) provides that the Convention of the diocese "formally recognizes the corporation known as the Philadelphia Protestant Episcopal City Mission as an established agency of the diocese, and herewith provides for a closer relation between it and this body." The provisions stated are that (1) the Bishop and Standing Committee shall nominate nine clergymen and ten laymen for election to the Board of Council of the City Mission as provided by its Charter, (2) the Convention commits to the City Mission the religious ministry to the inmates of the penal institutions and hospitals of Philadelphia, oversight of the "charitable enterprises" developed by the City Mission, and "the administration of such other work as may from time to time be referred to it by this Convention," (3) the Charter and bylaws of the City Mission and current amendments shall be filed with the Registrar of the diocese, and an annual report with financial statement shall be submitted to the Diocesan Convention, (4) annually, every Rector and Minister-in-Charge of a congregation in the diocese shall "in some way present the cause of the City Mission to his people, and bespeak their support of the work."

The two agencies organically related to parishes of the diocese, presumably are thereby officially and organically related to the diocese and therefore subject to its jurisdiction.

None of the other seventeen agencies are related to the diocese except by their own constitution and bylaws, even though the Convention in 1944 adopted Canon XVIII "Of Institutions," Section I "Diocesan Institutions" (Appendix Page XXI) making provisions for recognized relationship.

In addition to the fact that the Committee on Relation Between Convention and Diocesan Institutions has only recently begun its work the explanation for this continuing lack of relationship may be in part in the canon.

Questions About Canon XVIII. Certain questions are raised by the canon which the survey staff and Joint Committee believe can only be answered by considering all that is involved in establishing closer relations and that this must be done through a process of discussion by representatives of the diocese and of the social agencies.

Some questions needing to be explored are the following:

a. While Canon XVIII is specific about the requirements for agencies for which the diocese makes appropriations, it in no way defines requirements for those which do not request such appropriations. At the present time the number of these is 14.

b. The canon does not provide for varied degrees of relationships to the diocese.

c. No provision for relationship is made for those agencies which are organic parts of parish churches. Actually they seem to be excluded from any relationship.

d. There is no requirement about the standards of work done by the agency.

e. With the exception of those agencies requesting appropriations there is no suggestion of reciprocal benefits accruing to the agencies relating themselves to the diocese.

f. The canon provides that the agencies shall make reports to each annual Convention and that financial statements are to be submitted to the Executive Council and to the Treasurer. These provisions may be sound in theory but in practice they will tend to be lifeless and without meaning because it is obviously impossible for the Convention to give thoughtful attention to twenty reports.

If the relationship of the agencies to the diocese is to be a vital and significant one these reports must be part of a continuous process of cooperation between the agencies and a responsible body of the diocese.

Types of Assistance Requested from the Diocese by the Social Agencies. During the period of the study every agency of the diocese was visited by one or the other of the survey staff. In the conferences with the executives, and in some instances, board members, unsolicited suggestions were given of various services and relationship desired from the diocese:

Means of association with other Church agencies and with the diocese.

Assistance in interpreting the needs of the agency's clientele to board of trustees and contributors.

Help in developing an adequate board of trustees.

Aid in analyzing and developing agency program.

Interpretation of the agencies' functions to the clergy, and general interpretation of social case work.

The development of a philosophy of Church social work and a diocesan wide strategy. Interpretation to the public of the diocese's program of social service.

Assistance in securing foster homes for children and old people.

Assistance in finding volunteers.

The provision of scholarships for workers who would benefit from further training.

The formation of a panel of volunteer specialists in engineering, architecture, purchasing, etc.

Some means of controlling the development of new agencies.

Assistance in setting up services to take care of unmet needs.

A person professionally trained in social work employed by the diocese who would work closely with the agencies on the one hand, and with the Council of Social Agencies on the other.

Funds for building expansion, renovation of plant, and operating expenses.

These requests and the questions raised about the relationships between the agencies and the diocese must be considered further by representatives of both bodies.

Summary

This survey of the field of Christian social relations in the Diocese of Pennsylvania shows two broad types of activity: (1) social education, and (2) social agencies. This is the usual pattern in other dioceses of comparable strength. Both activities are closely related to each other and together form the total program of Christian social relations.

At the present time the Department of Christian Social Relations in the Diocese of Pennsylvania continues to operate with volunteer leadership and a large membership of forty-five clergy and laity. The department meets once a month and its committees consist of Mental Health, Race Relations, Cooperation with Social Agencies, and Publicity. Its annual budget is $1,000.

Other leadership in the social education program of the diocese comes from the Department of Christian Social Relations of the Woman's Auxiliary, the Commission on World Order, and from some parishes.

For the purposes of this survey, report materials were secured from the Departments of Christian social relations in the Dioceses of New York, Long Island, Washington, Massachusetts, and Michigan, and a conference was called of their chairmen and executives for the discussion of programs in metropolitan dioceses. Comparison of the programs of these departments and that of Pennsylvania show evidence that they have additional content in their programs; they secure wider participation of the clergy and laity; there is more continuity and concentration to their programs; and they exert a greater influence upon the Church and the community.

The comparisons show that these other departments all have executive secretaries and that their budgets are from six to ten times the budget provided for the department in Pennsylvania.

"Signs of the times" indicate the need for a more vital program of social education and community welfare. It is evident today that what happens to man in his economic, social, and political life, makes great difference in his moral and spiritual life. That being the fact, it is the responsibility of relevant religion and the Church to concern themselves about such subjects as industrial life, race relations, and world order. In essence, this is part of the pastoral work of the Church.

The recent action of General Convention, the Woman's Auxiliary, the National Council, and the Federal Council of Churches was reviewed and a new awareness of the need for Christian social education and community responsibility was noted. But the action of national bodies is not sufficient. It is in and through the parishes, and in the study, work, and worship of their people that the change must take place. The large number of parishes and the communicant strength of the Diocese of Pennsylvania make it a major potential factor in the life and work of the Church. The whole Church, as well as the diocese itself, would benefit if the diocesan program of Christian social education were strengthened.

The other major expression of social responsibility in the Diocese of Pennsylvania is the large number of social service agencies developed by its people.

At the present time there are 20 agencies operating through 25 centers and providing practically every type of service known to modern social work. Several hundred staff workers, clergy and laymen, minister daily to the physical, mental, social, and spiritual ills of more than four thousand people. Their work is accredited by national and local professional associations and they are a basic part of the whole social welfare program of the community. In financial terms they represent capital funds (largely from Churchmen) of at least $11,500,000 and property values of approximately $5,000,000. Their annual operating budget totals $4,207,950, toward which the Community Chest contributed $239,782, the diocesan budget $64,659, and individuals and parishes in lesser amount. Three of the agencies are restricted to the care of Episcopalians, and the other 22 serve the general community.

These agencies, some of them over a century old, were endowed and established by individual Churchmen or associations of Churchmen, and through the years other Churchmen have contributed generously to their capital funds and operating costs. They have been thought of, and most of them think of themselves, as agencies of the Episcopal Church. One of the agencies, the City Mission, is related to the diocese by canon. The Burd School and Christ Church Hospital are organically related to parishes. Most of the others provide in their constitutions and bylaws that the Bishop of the diocese shall hold board office and that the members of the boards, or a majority of them, shall be members of the Episcopal Church. Several of the agencies, because of the nature of their work, have chapels served by clergy of the Church.

Most of these relationships to the Church, however, are unofficial in the sense that they represent action only on the part of the agency and with no reciprocal action on the part of the Convention of the Diocese. No mutual responsibilities or obligations are defined and over a period of years there has been a desire on the part of the agencies and the diocese to regularize the relationship. In 1944 the Convention of the Diocese adopted a canon providing a basis upon which the agencies could be "recognized as diocesan" and a Committee on Relation Between Convention and Diocesan Institutions was appointed. This committee, together with a special committee of the Department of Christian Social Relations, constitutes the joint committee for this present study.

The joint committee has studied the factual material and analysis presented by the survey staff. This analysis raised specific questions about the present organizational, functional, and financial relations of the agencies and the Church; pointed up some basic questions about present day responsibilities of the Church and community welfare; and described reasons why the present canonical provision for closer relationships might not succeed. All of this material is in the body of the report. The answers to these questions will only be found in a continuing process of study and conference by representatives of the Convention of the Diocese and of the Church-related agencies.

CONCLUSIONS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

It was agreed that in making this survey the staff should share their findings and conclusions with the joint committee, at every step, as far as time allowed, but that the final statement of conclusions and recommendations should be the sole responsibility of the survey staff.

Conclusions

1. The social education and community welfare program of the diocese should be strengthened by broader and more thorough consideration of current social issues; wider participation of the clergy and laity of the diocese; and provision of more continuity in leadership.

2. The organizational, functional, and financial relations between the agencies and the diocese should be worked out through consultations of official representatives of the diocese and of each agency.

3. The present canons of the diocese, defining relations of the agencies and the diocese, should be revised on the basis of these consultations and should include provision for various categories of relationship.

4. Provision should be made by which the parishes of the diocese can have representation at diocesan-wide deliberations on social questions, and by which the agencies of the diocese can meet together for discussion of common problems and responsibilities.

5. The social education and social agency activities of the diocese should be closely related to each other and be integrated in a total diocesan program of Christian social relations.

6. This integration of the two phases of the total program of Christian social relations in the diocese should be delegated to an established department of the Executive Council, with defined responsibilities for educational and promotional leadership, the coordination of activities, and the organization of diocesan-wide conferences. The department should be available to consult with the social agencies and assist them in every possible way but should not have any administrative responsibility for them.

7. The extent and importance of this program makes it necessary that professionally trained full-time leadership should be provided for the department.

Recommendations

1. The responsibility for the total program of social education and social agencies should be placed with the diocesan Department of Christian Social Relations.

2. A Bishop of the diocese should be chairman of the Department of Christian Social Relations.

3. Within the Department of Christian Social Relations two separate divisions should be established: (1) Division of Social Education and Community Welfare; and (2) Division of Social Agencies and Community Service; each division to have its own chairman, members, and committees.

4. The membership of the department and its divisions should consist of a comparatively small number of elected and appointed representatives of the diocese, and wider representation of the diocese and the community should be secured through the committees.

5. A conference or association should be established by the department in which the social agencies can have membership; and consideration should be given to the advisability of setting up an annual conference on social education and community welfare to which the parishes can send representatives.

6. The Department of Christian Social Relations should be authorized to employ an executive secretary professionally competent to work with both divisions of the department.

7. A budget of from $8,500 to $10,000 should be provided for this enlarged program of the Department of Christian Social Relations.

Respectfully submitted,

ALMON R. PEPPER,
ARNOLD PURDIE.

NOTE: In the foregoing Report of the Survey, an Appendix was added containing a chart of the institutions and social services connected with the Diocese and also the canons on Christian Social Relations together with Annual Budgets of the Dioceses of New York, Massachusetts, Washington, Michigan, and Long Island. This has been omitted to save expense, but copies are on file at the Church House.

APPENDIX Y

Christmas Fund

The Christmas Fund, established over a century ago, provides aid to

1. Clergy, at one time entitled to seats in the Convention, disabled from performing duties of their office.
2. Widows, orphans or dependents of clergy who were entitled to seats in the Convention.
3. Deaconesses retiring from age or infirmity, who have served in the Diocese for at least ten years.

The Fund has awarded grants for 1947 aggregating $5,150 to seventeen persons. Judging from letters received by the Trustees, the sums alloted to many individuals are all that stand between the recipients and real hardship.

The Trustees believe the Fund has a real function in providing aid to the worthy. For that reason they are grateful to Bishop Hart for his calling attention to the needs of the Fund. The churches' 1946 response was generous—$3,975.94, which was added to capital account—many times our receipts in prior years. They hope that the custom of remembering the Fund at Christmastide will continue and they express their gratitude for the thoughtfulness of contributors in the year just ended.

By order of the Board of Trustees.

FREDERICK R. DRAYTON,
Secretary.

Report of the Board of Control of The Diocesan Library

During the past year twelve magazines have been subscribed for and placed in the rack for public use. Seventy-five books have been purchased and placed on the shelves and a number of others have been donated for the use of the Library. The circulation of books has increased to eighteen hundred.

Corporation for Christian Work in Educational Institutions

ANNUAL REPORT TO THE DIOCESAN CONVENTION—1947

The Corporation for Christian Work in Educational Institutions in conjunction with the Christian Association at the University of Pennsylvania, was fortunate in securing the services of the Rev. Allen F. Kremer.

Mr. Kremer has been instrumental in co-ordinating and putting in effect the principles and purposes of the Corporation.

Mr. Kremer's report of the activities of the Corporation follows:

This year, as perhaps never before, we are fully aware of our tremendous responsibility to promote and oversee the work of our Church in college and university centers. The fact that there is a greatly increased enrollment in practically all institutions of higher learning, and the fact that much of our education proceeds with definitely no religious (let alone specifically Christian) emphasis, make it doubly clear that the Church must increase and intensify its work in this area.

During the first month of residence, the Executive Secretary made a survey in the twelve major colleges and universities in the Diocese. It was found that there are more than 3,000 Episcopal students. There is only one full time Chaplain in the Diocese and he is primarily connected with the University of Pennsylvania. In each of seven campuses there is a sufficient number of Episcopal students to constitute a congregation in its own right. Yet in all but one instance such potential student congregations must be considered part of the Parish adjacent to the College campus. Needless to say, it is impossible for the busy Rector of an active Parish to devote sufficient time to that special Ministry to college students. When we remember that among this great number of students only a very small proportion are actively interested in the Church, we realize that here is a special type of mission field which requires efforts and techniques outside the ordinary scope of the Parish.

We are able to report a definite expansion in several directions during the course of the past year. Increased allotments for Cheyney State Teachers College and Temple and Lincoln Universities, have made it possible for our Church to carry on a far more effective ministry in those institutions.

New Canterbury Clubs have recently been organized in Swarthmore College and Lincoln University. Furthermore, we can feel that our College work as a whole has been strengthened through the Assembly for Episcopal College Students in this Diocese. Representatives from six colleges and universities attended a service, followed by a dinner and discussion meeting at St. Mary's Church, Hamilton Village.

Two small but effective conferences for recruitment for the Ministry were conducted in the Spring.

Through meetings of Clergy engaged in college work and the Directors of the Corporation, progress has been made toward formulating a more specific Diocesan Policy for College Work.

As in the past, the Corporation has greatly assisted Episcopal Work at the University of Pennsylvania, and has recently been instrumental in securing a residence for the Chaplain.

Submitted by,

GEORGE M. DALLAS,
President.

APPENDIX BB

Report on the Fund for the Endowment of the Episcopate

At December 31, 1946, this Fund at book values amounted to $168,312.74, an increase in principal for the calendar year of $9,601.48; the sum of $5,789.40, representing the gross income of the Fund, less the administration charge by The Church Foundation, having been paid to the Diocese in 1946.

An illustrated brochure giving the history and purpose of the Fund is in course of preparation. Copies will be mailed on request.
